A familiar September campus scene. This year, from all over the nation, the Class of 1969 arrived to begin another academic year at the Heights.

THE CHURCH
in COUNCIL

by

Rev. William J. Leonard, S. J.

The Second Vatican Council, convoked by Pope John to "bring the Church up to date," is in its fourth session, and Pope Paul has said that this session will be the last. Two thousand bishops have assembled four times in Rome from the far corners of the world, attended by hundreds of consultants, observers from other faiths, and journalists. The event has been spectacular, of course. Cardinals in red, bearded patriarchs, bishops in purple and gray and brown and white, mitred abbots and heads of religious orders in their centuries-old habits. Renowned theologians, black-veiled priests from Moscow, distinguished Protestant clergymen, prominent laymen and laywomen. The photographers, one might say, have had a ball.

From the very first, however, the Council has come under another and a sharper lens. Such an uproar went up from the world's press when it was announced that the meetings would be secret that the Secretariat grudgingly made available summaries of the discussions. Since that time very little said or done on the Council floor has not become common property in a matter of hours. The world's comment, friendly and unfriendly, respectful and not-so-respectful, has amounted to tons of newsprint, acres of magazine space, a swelling river of books.

Rev. William J. Leonard, S.J., Chairman, Department of Theology.

It is possible to misunderstand this scrutiny, to see it as a brash intrusion by non-professionals into matters beyond their competence. But it should be regarded, I feel, as rather poignant evidence of the world's hunger for a spirituality that will be relevant to the present day. If comment has been at times harshly critical, this has been because in some instances men have not understood the implications of the conciliar teaching for their everyday lives. In other cases they have thought—justly, sometimes—that the topics discussed or the formulations proposed have not been meaningful in the twentieth century. Indeed, several formulations have been rejected by the Council Fathers themselves on exactly these grounds, the original schema on revelation, for instance, or the communication drawn up as the Council's message to priests.

Everyone is looking forward to the fourth session because the topics scheduled for discussion are eminently practical in our own day: religious liberty, the Christian's attitude toward the Jews, war, world poverty, the lay apostolate, religious orders, the education of priests, the missions. These are thorny and vast subjects; it will be wonderful if the Council manages to work its way even through some of them. But at least—so the commentators seem to be saying—the Council is finally getting down to reality by discussing them. Previous sessions, they imply, dealt only with theory, generalizations, pronouncements on matters that may be of interest to clerics but do not touch the workaday Christian.

This is a facile and shallow judgment. It takes no account of the fact that ideas have consequences. And so many of the Council's consequences are already visible among us that the commentators should know by this time how creative its ideas are.

For example, consider the freedom of discussion that now prevails among us; contrast it with the situation even in the 1950's. To be sure, some discussion has gone beyond all prudential or fruitful limits; some has been ill-mannered, belligerent, iconoclastic. But the fact is that there is literally no question which cannot be given an airing in the Church today, and we should be able to anticipate a time when this will be done temperately, with a view to generating light rather than heat. That this new climate of freedom derives from the Council seems beyond question. Not only has the Council discussed all sorts of topics freely, but it has refrained from hurling anathemas and even from formulating dogmatic definitions.

Again, conciliar teaching has uniformly appealed to our Christian wellsprings — to the Scriptures, to the Fathers of the Church, to the liturgy. Note the revised schema on revelation, the very beautiful first and second chapters of the Constitution on the Liturgy, the Constitution on the Church, the tenor of the Decree on Ecumenism. This faithfulness to revelation has already brought about a fresh emphasis on charity in place of complicated and dubious legalisms. The Christian commitment is already seen as involving something more than Sunday observance and Friday abstinence. We are already much more aware of the centrality of the Cross and the Resurrection, of what Dietrich Bonhoeffer called "the cost of discipleship."

Not only is this refreshing and invigorating. Not only does it contribute to the renewal of the Church which Pope John sought so earnestly. It may be absolutely providential. For, if we may believe shrewd observers like Karl Rahner, the Church of the future will be a minority Church. As the population of the world increases, Christians will be relatively fewer. There will be no more "Catholic nations," holding to a Christian philosophy as their official ideology. The Church may be esteemed or it may be merely tolerated; it could be persecuted. It will in any case no longer have the support of princes and governments. The uncommitted, seeing no advantage even in nominal membership, will fall away. Men will become and remain Christians not by custom and tradition, not because of history or social pressure or public opinion, but by choice, by an act of faith made, as Father Rahner says, after a difficult struggle and always achieved anew. For such an age it will be required that Christians have ready access to the sources of truth and life.

As yet we have not felt the full impact of the Council's Constitution on the Liturgy. There have been ritual changes and changes in liturgical language, but the theology of worship has not yet been universally apprehended, and until it is changes will seem pointless and vexatious. Only when Christians know themselves as a community gathered around an altar, proclaiming from it the death and resurrection of the Lord as the sign of the world's salvation, will the Constitution be understood as the truly momentous document that it is. But before this realization can become general, much must be learned. The meaning of baptism, for instance—what it is to a man when he is called out of darkness into light, when he is made holy in the roots of his being by the indwelling Trinity. Or the meaning of community—what it is to come out of solitude into brotherhood, to give and receive welcome, to feel at the heart's core that one belongs. We must recover some sense of the rightness of worship—community worship especially—that is grateful and glad and exalting, not simply the dull fulfillment of an obligation. And we must, through acquaintance with sacred history, see our liturgy as the redeeming priesthood of Christ reaching out through space and time, the means by which our gracious Father extends his mercies to all men, and to ourselves at this precise moment.

Again, if our new liturgy is to seem relevant, it must be related to our lives as we live them outside the church walls. Our individual prayer needs to feed on the great themes of revelation as these are proclaimed to us by the liturgy. Our practice of virtue needs the direction and the drive that come from contemplation of love of God as it is spread before us in the Mass and the sacraments. If we can establish no correlations between our worship and our work, between our love of God and our love of men, between our ritual solemnities and, say, our treatment of the Negro, our concern for the poor, our desire for union with our brother Christians, our zeal for peace at home and abroad, then we come suspiciously close to those who cry "Lord, Lord," but will not do the will of the Father.

Of course the liturgy is itself in need of adaptation to our present mentality, to the outlook and psychological needs of twentieth-century Christians. We are not the men our fathers were, much less the men our ancestors were in the sixteenth century, when our liturgy was rigidly codified and frozen. This process of adaptation is going on, however, now, and will in a few years be accomplished. It seems certain, for instance, that before long the entire Mass will be celebrated in our own language. Only if we understand it can it be for us the proclamation of the Lord's death that St. Paul said it is. Only if we understand it can we give with Christ that whole-souled response which our Father, who has loved us so long and so delicately, deserves.

Richard Cardinal Cushing
Archbishop of Boston.

Nor have we had time yet to assimilate the ideas in such documents as the Constitution on the Church and the Decree on Ecumenism. They will have to be pondered, prayerfully, and allowed gradually to shape our attitudes. It would be fanciful to imagine that Christians of the future will all be saints. (Our Lord's image of the Church as the net crammed with good and bad fish still seems most accurate.) But the Council will have made them different. They will be, one thinks, less rigorous, less exclusive, more patient and gentle. They will have a larger hospitality for new points of view, unfamiliar opinions. They will be less defensive, and show a warmer cordiality to strangers. The spirit of dialogue will prevail more generally, leading to a better collaboration of pastors and people, on the one hand, and to a deeper immersion in the world's affairs, on the other. As things are going now, it seems that there will be more leisure than we have ever known, and one hopes that Christians—at least those who have had an education—will want to increase their knowledge of theology by reading and discussion, will want to be represented in public affairs or to give their energies to apostolic activities for which they have no time now.

A teacher's years go by like anyone else's, and begin to blur after a while. Each September brings a new group of faces, wary or receptive, listless or eager. Each June takes them away into the wide world, and many are never seen again. How, the teacher sometimes wonders, did they manage to vanish so utterly? And what sort of men and women did they turn out to be, eventually? Did they solve that personality problem? Did they find their niche? Did any of his thousands of words serve them in any useful way? He hopes (since they represent his whole harvest) that they have not turned cynical or bitter, that they can still be stirred by a bright vision, that their "liberal" education has given them a liberality toward new ideas and new opportunities. If this be the case, they can rejoice (and he with them) that they have lived in the day of the Second Vatican Council. "Behold," says the Lord of the Apocalypse, "I make all things new."

Rev. William J. Leonard, S.J. is currently the Chairman, Department of Theology at Boston College. Fr. Leonard has been a teacher of English and Theology for over 26 years and saw service as an Army chaplain from 1944 to 1946. He is the author of "New Horizons in Catholic Worship" and a member of the National Liturgical Conference.

Our Greater Destiny

by THOMAS J. CUDMORE '40

Director, Development

WHEN we alumni think back to our internship for life at Boston College, we tend to recall the social experiences at the Heights, the treasured friendships which have lasted down the years, as well as the formal education we received. How else do we explain the unique spirit of Boston College alumni? How else can we explain the past and present record of alumni support which has enabled Alma Mater to expand from a small liberal-arts college to the widely respected national university she is today? To most of us, the welfare of Boston College is a personal concern. To most of us, her future is our future, her success is our success.

It was with this spirit in mind that the president of Boston College dared to project his ambitious plan for a greater Boston College a few short years ago. Others were just as confident. During an exhaustive study of two years Father Walsh discussed his proposals with the Board of Trustees, the Alumni Board of Directors, the University Faculty, the Development Council, and key alumni. He found nothing but enthusiasm for the program he outlined. No one who had any part in the final decision had the slightest doubt about its rightness, its practicality, or its success. Everyone who was consulted affirmed that the 100th Anniversary Development Program was imperative for Boston College and — just as important — that the program was possible for Boston College.

The goal established was $40,000,000 to be raised in two steps during a ten-year period ending in 1971. It was a bold challenge, but alumni and friends of the university were prepared to go forward to meet it.

The smashing success of the first phase is now history. On March 18 of this year, the president of Boston College announced that the initial goal of $15,000,000 had been oversubscribed by $276,000, nearly fifty percent of it gifts from the loyal alumni of Boston College. It was staggering proof of the alumni commitment to "Strength in Excellence" at Boston College.

FRANKLY, we were not prepared for the alumni reaction which followed the reaching of the first-phase goal. It would have been reasonable to expect some complacency, some signs of slackening interest and effort. Apparently we just didn't know enough about alumni spirit. So far from slowing down, many alumni have stepped up their activity, and they have already carried us into the second phase ahead of schedule. As a result of their efforts during the summer, we have received significant gifts already towards our second-phase goal of $25,000,000.

A little more than fifteen years ago Boston College comprised only four major buildings at the Chestnut Hill campus. Dates of dedication of some of the newer buildings are given in this aerial photo of the middle campus. Not shown are the Law School (1954), Roberts Center (1958), McHugh Forum (1958), and 11 dormitories for men opened since 1955. More than 1,500 students now reside on campus. The arrow indicates the site of the five-story science center, Higgins Hall, now under construction and scheduled for completion in 1966.

The impetus of the 100th Anniversary Development Program has wrought many changes at the Chestnut Hill Campus during the past five years. New buildings have sprouted up, additional funds for endowment and research have been made available, educational programs have been improved.

SINCE 1960 Boston College has been enlarged by the construction of Cushing Hall, the School of Nursing; McElroy Commons, a spacious center for university activities with dining facilities for students and faculty; the four-story Carney Faculty Center, with its offices, classrooms, and seminar rooms; and six new dormitories, increasing the resident student population to more than 1,500. Moving rapidly towards completion with a target date of September, 1966 is Higgins Hall, a new five-story science center for biology and physics.

Financial aid to students at the four colleges during the 1965-66 academic year will total $2,231,000. Research expenditures during the same period will approach $3,000,000.

The university faculty now numbers more than 800, more than sixty percent of them appointed since 1960. Six new doctoral programs have been opened, as well as six inter-departmental programs for special studies.

Much has been accomplished, and Alma Mater has become a place of energy and ferment. But much still remains to be done. In the world of education today, you must take three steps forward just to stand still. Unless we continue to move forward, we shall lag behind.

At the first-phase victory dinner in the spring, Father

Walsh underscored the commitment of Boston College to the future:

“BRICK and mortar, as important as they are, do not make a university. A university is judged primarily by its faculty. So it behooves us in the years ahead to enrich our faculty by the further addition of distinguished men and women to its already distinguished membership, and to give them the atmosphere, the tools, and the assistance so necessary for scholarly work, good teaching, and the personal counselling of our students.

"Our emphasis in the future will be directed towards strengthening our graduate programs with doctoral degrees in different departments. We hope to expand even further our involvements in international problems. We must continue to increase our efforts to enroll students who have the potential leadership for the Church and for society in every school and department of the university.

"To attract and assist these deserving students, more financial aid is necessary. We hope, in fact, to increase our present aid from university funds more than tenfold in the coming years.

"It is obvious to all of us close to the university that by 1970 we need another $25,000,000. We have finished one phase, and immediately we begin another. To fulfill our commitment to excellence in every sphere, to realize our responsibility to the community, the nation, and the world in our second century, we must set our sights high. You must help me to finish the tasks we have begun so well together; I cannot do it alone. I can only ask our alumni and friends to provide the assistance we need to meet our challenge."

AS alumni we have a right to be enthusiastic about the future of Boston College — and a vested responsibility to do everything in our power to assure that future. Now on the drawing boards is a building for the Institute of Human Sciences, a research center devoted to the study of social and psychological problems of urban areas. The building, which will also house the School of Social Work, will probably be constructed on the site of the present Student Activities Building, a "temporary" structure at the south end of the campus since 1944.

Other buildings essential to the continuing growth of Alma Mater are now being planned for completion by 1970. They include: a new library, a residence center for women and additional dormitories for men, a university-community center for the fine arts, and a university chapel.

Faculty salaries must be improved, and professorial chairs established for distinguished members. Financial help must be given to worthy undergraduate and graduate students.

The cost is $25,000,000.

I can imagine no better visual symbol of the strength of Boston College than the massive Tower on the Heights we all know so well. From the tower one can see in every direction, behind and ahead. Firmly anchored in rock and concrete, its upward thrust offers inspiration, courage, and promise. Its bells call the wanderer and guide the uncertain.

But the tower is still only a symbol, a mere measure of the alumni of Boston College. It is the alumni behind that symbol who add strength to the upward surge of the university.

Each and every alumnus has a personal stake in the future of a great university. The completion of the design for continued "Strength in Excellence" is not a wish, not a dream. With our support and encouragement, it will become a reality.

ALUMNI ALMANAC

Effective October first, PHILIP J. MCNIFF, '33 will become the Director and Librarian of the Boston Public Library. Currently the Harvard Associate Librarian for Resources and Acquisitions, Mr. McNiff is also the Archibald Coolidge Bibliographer at Harvard University. McNiff, who was the first librarian of the Lamont Library at Harvard has also been President of the Massachusetts Library Association and acts as consultant for a number of private and public libraries. NEW FATHER GENERAL NAMED BY SOCIETY OF JESUS

At the last General Congregation of the Society of Jesus held in Rome, Very Rev. Peter Arrupe, S.J., was named Father General of the Society, succeeding the late Father Janssens.

Fr. Arrupe was born in Bilbao, Spain in 1907 and after attending the College of the Fathers of the Religious Schools, he entered the Medical School of the University of Madrid. His medical studies ceased a few years later when he entered the Society of Jesus at Loyola to begin his training. While studying philosophy, the Society was dissolved by order of the Spanish Government and he was forced to leave Spain, but continued further study in Belgium. After being ordained at Manefee, Belgium on July 30, 1936, he continued his study at St. Mary's College, Kansas and later worked with the Spanish speaking immigrants in New York.

In 1938 Fr. Arrupe went to Japan, carried on work with the poor for a number of years and was later named Vice Rector and Master of Novices and it was during this time that the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima. Fr. Arrupe turned the Novitiate into a hospital and thanks to his early medical training, was able to render great assistance during this disaster. In 1954 he became Vice Provincial and finally in 1958 he was named first Provincial of the new Province of Japan, a post he held until his recent election as the Father General.

B. C. CLUB NOTES

NEW JERSEY

The Club will sponsor a Victory Cocktail party following the B.C.-Army game on October 2 at Petruccio's Restaurant, Hackensack, New Jersey. Tim Curtin, '57, Chairman of the event, extends a cordial welcome to all alumni in the area to attend. Club members have recently received a letter from President Joe Cotter outlining the activities for the year, and announcing the new officers. In addition to Cotter, other officers include Tim Curtin, '51, President; Pat Cahill, '56, Treasurer and Elaine Vetri, '63, Ed. Secretary. Serving as trustees are Garrett Connolly, '51, Phil Larkin, '27 and Jim O'Brien, '21. Important among the scheduled events is the dinner to honor B.C.'s President Michael P. Walsh, S.J., to be held at the Glen Ridge Country Club on Thursday, December 2. Dave Godvin, '51 is Chairman for the dinner. When the Eagle hockey and basketball squads participate in ECAC tourneys at Madison Square Garden in December, the Club plans to have a contingent of Alumni leading the cheers.

WISCONSIN

During the summer, Paul Gramling, Bill Stetz and Bill Ladewig, Milwaukee area boys now playing at the Heights, brought club members up to date on B.C. football prospects for the coming season. They also brought Dick Kroner, who enters B.C. this fall and were entertained at luncheon by Club members. Young Kroner was an all conference and all state linesman at Pius XI High School in Milwaukee. During the Christmas season, the Club will sponsor its 4th annual luncheon at which all area B.C. students will be invited guests. Larry Donovan reports that additional events for the coming season are now in the planning stage.

LONG ISLAND

Following the annual Rector's dinner in May, the new club officers took over club activities. Elected were John F. Wissler, '57 President; Bernard F. Hurley, '57 Vice President; Henry F. Barry, Jr., '64 Treasurer and Richard F. Dowling, '57 Secretary. Serving as Program Director is Michael P. Pierce, '58. The Board of Trustees include Kevin Burke, '50, Norman Murray, '50, Thomas R. Cumiskey, '52, and Harvey Reed, '47. The Club is making plans to promote a group trip to the Army game at West Point.

DETROIT

At a meeting held in late August, Brian Earley, John Clark, Bill Donovan, Art Williams, Jack Crimmins, Joe Cunningham and Dick Fitzpatrick set up tentative plans for club activities for the season. When the program is completed, club members will be notified and it is hoped that the club roster will be completed at that time. Interested alumni are asked to contact Dick Fitzpatrick for further details.

HARTFORD

Once again, the Connecticut club will sponsor its second annual excursion to the B.C.-Army game at West Point on October 2. Plans call for club members to meet at the Aetna Life Insurance company to board the chartered bus at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday, October 2, to return immediately after the game. Last minute applicants may contact any of the following three club officers: JOHN TANNER (236-4581), BILL DAVIS, (525-4431) or BUD NOONAN (525-3163). The next event on the schedule is a dinner, sponsored by the Club, to be held on October 28th at the Hawthorne Inn, Meriden, to honor Very Rev. Michael P. Walsh, S.J., President of Boston College. All alumni in the state are cordially invited to attend.

SYRACUSE GAME

On Saturday, November 20, the Eagles will meet the Orangemen of Syracuse in Archbold Stadium on the University of Syracuse campus. A large contingent of Boston College alumni are expected to make the trip and headquarters for B.C. will be the beautiful Syracuse Country House located on Buckley Road at exit 36 of the N.Y. Thruway. All alumni in the area are invited to join the Victory cocktail party at the Country House following the game.

Cushing of Boston: A Candid Portrait

by Joseph Dever, Bruce Humphries, Boston, 287 pp., $5.95.

This is, I believe, the first biography of a Boston College man by a Boston College man. As a result, it commends itself to all alumni and friends of the university, and they will not find it dull. As Michael Novak says in his introduction it is "candid, witty, lively." Readers will find it, in the main, an accurate, admiring and sympathetic portrait in depth of the present archbishop of Boston, who has, of all Boston College alumni, made the greatest impact on his country, his church and his age.

Few Boston College graduates have written as much or as well as Joseph Dever. Offhand, I cannot think of another who has written three novels, biographies as well as numerous fugitive pieces for a wide variety of publications. There is a sense in which he ideally suited for the task at hand and he has made an honest, driving attempt at that most difficult of portrayals: a candid portrait of a prominent ecclesiastic who is at the height of his fame. He has broken new ground and the extent to which he has done it badly can for the most part be laid to haste. Two other biographies of Cardinal Cushing have appeared within the year, one a pious exercise in antique hagiographic style, the other for the most part a rewrite job by a very competent newspaperman. Author Dever has attempted more and achieved more.

Although the portrait is powerful and plain, the book as a whole is not well done. Above all, it suffers from a complete lack of responsible editing. This fact alone emphasizes the neglect of the Jesuit colleges in company or Catholic colleges generally to establish their own press or presses with professional personnel to rival or match those of, say Harvard, Oklahoma, Massachusetts or even Southern Illinois whose scholarly recognition seems to rest on its press alone. Cushing of Boston: A Candid Portrait seemingly never passed under the eye of a publisher's editor.

There is no need here to recount the outline of the life of the distinguished bishop of Boston and its environs. From South Boston beginnings to the ecumenical council, author Dever has the main facts of the Cardinal's life in order, although he has one brother on page 20 and two on page 72.

This can be put down to the same carelessness in printing that gives us a number of misspellings and misspelled names, hyphenates "Sub Turri" on one page and removes the hyphen on the next, and does the same with "non sequitur", that spells the name of Stonehill College two ways in the same paragraph, uses "faits accomplis" in the plural but with a singular spelling, leaves off the credit line for the famous quotation at the beginning of Chapter XIX while dutifully crediting every other, that permits annoying repetitions of phrases and even the misuse of at least one word. These faults are more the publisher's rather than Mr. Dever's but they mar the book and the reading.

The faults that Mr. Dever contributes to the book are something else again. The biography, as he states, began one way and ended another; at first authorized by the Cardinal and then disavowed. We can imagine the disabilities under which author Dever labored. Then the work had to be hurried so as not to be too far behind the publication dates of the competition.

He has taken an anecdotal, sometimes personal approach, and some of the anecdotes suffer in the telling, although Mr. Dever's may well be the more authentic. The writing itself is not his best. At his best he is very good, and master of the caustic and vivid expression as when he speaks of "police and local licensing officials who sometimes with maneuverable haloes are always involved in the lucrative calisthenics of the liquor trade." At his worst he stumbles from clichés to a strained jauntiness worse than inelegant. Many will consider it a lapse of taste that he discusses possible successors to the Cardinal while the man is still alive and incredibly active. It certainly serves little purpose. He saturates too many pages with adjectives and the fusillade given Bishop John Wright is downright embarrassing — "mellifluous," "erudite," "on-rushing," "finest clerical mind in the archdiocese," "eminent," "a golden eagle" among "chaffinches," who chats "urbanely" in "masterful" French while nuns "swoon" in the "radiance of his charm," "magnetic," "scholarly," "brilliant". Yet on page 142 is an anecdote so clumsily handled it becomes a slur on the same man whom he names elsewhere as his personal preference for the Cardinal's successor!

But Author Dever can bear criticism, for he has made a bold beginning that is a contribution to ecclesiastical biography. Mr. Novak sums it up: "Joseph Dever's informal profile of Richard James Cushing of Boston is an attempt to sound a new note in ecclesiastical biography. Candid, witty, lively, his record of the life and personality of a man he deeply loves and respects stands as a tribute to that man, the candid and almost legendary Cardinal of Boston. And yet, as often as not between the lines, and even openly, it criticizes where to the author criticism seems due. We can only hope that future ecclesiastical biographies continue further in the direction Mr. Dever opens."

Dever closes one chapter with a paragraph worth repeating, which indeed, sums up the book to show how the author sees his man: "There is the real Cushing, the essential Cushing, not the political Cushing, the commentator of the affairs of state, the social interceder who confuses genuine feeling with the projection of a misunderstood image; this is Cushing the priestly man, the manly priest. It is the kind of thing for which he will long be remembered when the bar-top coin boxes, the shamrock record albums, the bookie key shops, the Joe McCarthy and John Birch societies have glimmered out of history, and only the kindly, endlessly-giving Boston Irish Bishop will remain."

HERBERT A. KENNY, '34

Mr. Kenny is a former Editor-in-Chief of the Heights, Managing Editor of the Stylus and well known as the lyricist of "Sweep Down The Field", one of Boston College's famed fight songs. Poet, author and critic, he is the Book Editor of the Boston Globe.

PARADE of CLASSES

'14 JOHN S. KEOHANE 1147 Tremont Street, Boston

Our 51st Alumni Day was a quiet affair this year, being attended by Father JOE BUSAM, S.J. of the College of the Holy Cross, BILL O'SULLIVAN and JOHN KEOHANE. Father JOE is a faithful member of the Class. We are awaiting our 55th Anniversary.

Dr. FRANK DEVLIN (retired) and Mrs. Devlin spent May and June travelling in Europe. FRANK is especially entranced with Ireland.

Father FRANK DOYLE has resigned as Pastor at Most Blessed Sacrament Parish in Greenwood and is living with his sister in Dorchester.

We had a letter from Father PAT HIGGINS, S.J. of the College of the Holy Cross before he went on Retreat in Baltimore. Though living in the infirmary, his health seems to have improved.

We enjoyed a nice visit with ED SULLIVAN on the Cape in June where he is enjoying his retirement from scholastic duties.

Father LEO HUGHES, O.P. former Provincial of the Chicago Province has moved from St. Dominic's Parish, New Orleans, to St. Anthony of Padua Church, 4640 Canal Street, New Orleans, Louisiana.

Father JIM KELLEY, S.J. founder of the Business School at the Heights, is living at Boston College High School.

Father ED McLAUGHLIN, Pastor at St. Paul's Parish in South Hamilton is contemplating building a new church at Wenham, which has been growing. Father ED was one of the original members of the Class at Boston College High School in 1906.

'15 PHILIP J. BOND 18 Houston St., West Roxbury 02132

The Golden Jubilee Class of 1915 gathered at the Heights on Alumni Day. Twenty of the seventy-six graduates survive. Sixteen of the twenty plus three who left us at the end of the Sophomore year to study for the Priesthood, enjoyed a happy reunion.

The class is indebted to Fr. Walsh whose reception for the class was the highlight of a day filled with many interesting activities. Our gratitude is extended also to Wally Boudreau and Tom Murray whose planning made the day run smoothly.

RT. REV. JAMES F. GRIMES, Pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Nahant, our classmate, celebrated Mass in St. Joseph's Chapel for deceased members of the alumni.

ROBERT J. BURNS was greeted by the class at the conclusion of the Mass. Bob, although seriously ill, insisted on attending the Mass. Bob died in July surviving his wife by three weeks. This fine couple left eleven children, eight sons and three daughters, and twenty-two grandchildren. Bob spent his entire career as a real estate operator in Newton and vicinity succeeding his father as president of a far-flung organization of realtors.

The following graduates, arranged alphabetically, attended one or more of the activities: RT. REV. JOHN J. ALLSTON, Pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Quincy Point for the past eighteen years, is as well known in Quincy as the Fore River Bridge. PHILIP J. BOND, retired from the Boston School System after forty seven years service, including twenty-one years on the Board of Examiners and fourteen years as Assistant Superintendent in charge of Personnel. DR. JOHN F. BRADLEY has practiced medicine in Peabody and vicinity for many years. A man of many hobbies, (wood-working, machine work, ceramics, etc.) John has benefited many patients by the therapeutic value of a hobby. GEORGE F. CASEY came from Hollywood, Calif. to attend the reunion thereby, winning the prize for the graduate coming from the longest distance. George headed West in 1923 following teaching service in the Quincy Schools. On the Coast, he has been engaged in teaching and business: his teaching in parochial high schools, his business largely in the selling of text books. JOHN B. FITZGERALD retired from the Boston School System as Head of Department of Mathematics in Brighton High School. John is a veteran of the Royal Canadian Air Force of World War I. PAUL S. FLYNN is a lawyer with an office in Waltham. Busy in the management of a large office staff, Paul confines himself now largely to probate work. THOMAS F. GALVIN is a retired Boston teacher of English who taught in the High School of Commerce and later in Boston Technical High School. WILLIAM F. GREELEY is a retired teacher of Science who taught many years in Gloucester High School. CHARLES O. HALLORAN resigned five years ago from the Boston School System as submaster of the William Howard Taft Junior High School. Pensioned after more than forty years service, Charlie went South to Savannah, Georgia, where he teaches in a junior high school. GEORGE S. HENNESSEY retired from the Boston School System as Head of Department of Modern Foreign Languages in English High School. Since retirement he has become a valued employee of a large law concern. JOHN A. LAHIVE retired from Hyde Park High School where he taught English for more than forty years. Today he is vigorous enough to teach English. FREDERICK L. MAHONEY retired from the submastership of the Prince School in the Boston School System. JOSEPH A. MAHONEY served for more than forty years as a teacher of English in several Boston high schools ending his experience in the Boston Trade High School. The class is unique in the annals of the College in having an alumnus who since retirement has sent a monthly contribution to the College. This alumnus is JOSEPH A. MAHONEY. CORNELIUS F. MERRIGAN is a retired executive of the Mass. Registry of Motor Vehicles. He is the only member of the class to live within walking distance of the College. JOHN J. WALSH, a member of the Board of Regents of the College, is a lawyer and businessman. He deserves the most credit for gathering together the surviving members of the class.

With us during the day's activities and most welcome were:

REV. DANIEL J. O'KEEFE, Pastor of the St. Theresa of the Child Jesus parish, Billerica. REV. DENNIS A. SCANNELL of the Redemptorist Order, a retreat master with headquarters at the St. Alphonsus Retreat House, Tobyhanna, Penn. The class was saddened to learn of the death of our Redemptorist classmate late in August, and extends its sympathy to his family.

Unable to be with us because of illness but frequently mentioned were: REV. GEORGE S. BRENNAN, Pastor of St. James Church, Arlington and RT. REV. GEORGE F. WISEMAN, Pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Wakefield, RT. REV. PHILIP J. COYNE, N.J., Pastor of St. Nicholas church, Passaic, N.J.; Capt. JOHN J. TWOMEY, U.S. Navy and CHARLES F. YORKE.

'16 JAMES L. O'BRIEN 41 Pond Circle, Jamaica Plain

Our June meeting and Memorial Mass was held at St. Columbkille's Convent. For years our classmate, MONSIGNOR DALY has invited us to have our meeting and Mass at St. Columbkille's. Bill passed away on August 23. The sympathy of the class is extended to MSGR. DALY's family. May his soul rest in peace. Our beloved classmate had Mrs. Atkinson and Mrs. Sheehan attend the Memorial Mass as their husbands died during the past year.

FRED GILLIS was reelected Class President and FRANK ROCHE was selected to assist him in preparing plans for our 50th anniversary.

JACK O'KEEFE's two nephews were ordained Jesuits in June. Their uncle, LEO O'KEEFE, S.J. is an honorary member of our class.

Fr. GERALD FITZGERALD plans to be with us for our 50th.

My son Richard, '58 is now Associate Director of the Community Services of Greater Worcester. He was also elected in June 1965, to be a Director of the Alumni Association.

'17 THOMAS D. CRAVEN 107 Barrett St., Needham 92

JOHN FLYNN gathered twenty-one members of the class for the annual dinner at Alumni Hall on April 26. Among those present were FR. MAURICE DULLE, S.J., FR. FRANK QUINN, TOM CRAVEN, ED. CRUISE, JACK DOYLE, WALTER DURNAN, JOHN FLYNN, MARTY HIGGINS, DR. CY LYDON, BO MAHONEY, JACK McCARTY, PETE McKENNA, RADO McKEOWN, JACK MULCAHY, MAURICE MURPHY, BILL REID, DR. CHARLEY SMITH, DR. ED TOBIN, NICK PETROCELLI, CHARLEY SHARKEY, and BILL WELCH.

Alumni Day did not attract the usually sizeable number who have turned out in the past. It may be that they are looking two years ahead to the 50th. The class was represented by JOHN FLYNN, JACK DOYLE and DR. CY LYDON.

DR. CY LYDON reports that his son, James, is now a full professor in the history department at Duquesne University.

DR. CHARLEY SMITH for his spring vacation this year went by freighter from the West Coast across the Pacific to Manila, Yokohama, Hong Kong and other ports.

DR. ED TOBIN suffered the loss of his brother James, well known in the engineering and road building fields, early in May. Members of the Mass. Society of Civil Engineers formed an honorary escort at the requiem high Mass in Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. The sympathy of the class is extended to the members of the Tobin family. May he rest in peace.

NICK PETROCELLI has for years held the respect and admiration of all who know him for his courage in trying to carry on in the face of an incurable crippling illness. He was aided by the love and devotion of his noble wife, Agnes. Early in June she was taken from him by death after a long illness. A requiem Mass was celebrated in Holy Name Church, West Roxbury by FR. MAURICE DULLEA, S.J. The class was represented by FR. FRANK QUINN, WALTER DURMAN, JACK DOYLE and JOHN FLYNN. The sincere sympathy of the class is extended to Nick, his son, Joseph, the Petrocelli and Gorman families. May her soul rest in peace. At the present time Nick is in the Stonehedge Nursing Home, 5 Redlands Road, West Roxbury.

BO MAHONEY has been recuperating this summer in Schuette after undergoing an operation. It is the fervent hope of the class that he has retained the zest which has flavored our class gatherings. Get well soon, Bo.

TOM PRINTON passed away on April 17th in St. Barnabas Hospital, Livingston, N.J. This was after the notes for this column had been turned in. The notice of his death was carried in another column of the Spring issue of Alumni News. We wish at this time to extend to Mrs. Printon and to the family the sincere sympathy of the class for the loss of their loved one. May his soul rest in peace.

18 M. FRANCIS NOLAN
17 So. Normandy Ave.,
Cambridge, 02138

Sympathy for the family and prayers of the class requested for our classmate, JOHN J. HOBAN, who died on February 6.

Dr. JAMES H. CROWDLE is Professor of Chemistry at Canisius College in Buffalo. Jim was formerly Chairman of the Department and has been associated with the College for over 43 years. Active in campus life, in addition to his teaching, he is the founder of the college student newspaper and the DiGamma Honor Society, to which prominent alumni are elected each year.

In reply to my plea for some news "on the brighter side", we are printing here some excerpts of a letter received from our distinguished classmate, Vicar Apostolate Vincent J. Kennelly, S.J., Bishop of the Caroline and Marshall Islands.

"Perhaps I should know you, but since I departed B.C. in 1915 to enter the Society at Poughkeepsie, after finishing only Freshman of the Class of 13 my memory is hazy. However, I have one classmate right at B.C. now, Father Joe Walsh, S.J., the Father Minister of the Community for untold years, who can 'tell all', including the way in which he helped me through Latin and Greek under the watchful eye and inspired teaching of Fr. Francis X. Doyle, S.J. (R.I.P.)"

This year, on September 20 I will be celebrating my Golden Jubilee as a Jesuit, most likely in Rome where I will be attending the Fourth Session of the Ecumenical Council. But my 'home' is on Truk in the Caroline Is. If any members of the class wish to retire to our Pacific tropical islands I would gladly furnish them a whole island, including coconut trees, for themselves. All they have to do is to get the proper clearance from the U.S. Trust Territory which rules these islands, thousands of them.

If anyone can remember back to September 1915 please give them my best wishes and blessings on all."

19 FRANCIS J. ROLAND

Very few of the class appeared for the Alumni Day activities. At this age, we should have reached our second childhood—and should be bouncing around again—how about it?

Several of the class celebrated their 50th anniversary from B. C. High. FATHER "JOE" SHEA, the Rector, acted as host and gave us a wonderful time—gold diplomas at the graduation exercises (in English so the we could translate them) followed by a social hour and dinner with the faculty. We are very grateful for the kindness of the Jesuits at B. C. High—for a memorable day.

Again I plead to the members of the class to send me notes of their experiences and those of their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren for publication in this column.

With our forty-fifth anniversary of Graduation a matter of history, the class now points towards the big fiftieth and the opening event will be the annual October reunion.

Alumni Day in June found the usual faithful group in attendance with DAN LUCEY and FRANK EARLS acting as official photographers and all were delighted to have with us on that day FRED GALLAGHER of Revere who had been unable to attend for years.

GERRY O'NEIL, JOHN MCCORROW and the class secretary attended the well-deserved testimonial dinner to JACOB SHEEHAN. Illness prevented BOB PYNE from being there and hearing the tributes paid to Jack. MONSIGNOR JOHN LANE represented the Class at the head table in honoring the guest of honor.

JOE JOYCE and his better half have returned after an extended Southern cruise following Alumni Day.

The Emerald Isle was invaded during the summer by your class chaplain, MONSIGNOR LANE. July brought a card from him from Killarney and August brought one from FRANK EARLS vacationing in Galway.

WILLIAM "JEFF" CONWAY reports a complete recovery from a serious operation during the summer and the return home to his home in Claremont, New Hampshire.

The sympathy of the Class is extended to RAY KILEY whose brother Harry passed away.

21 GORDON F. IRONS
9 Emmonsdale Rd., W. Roxbury

The following members of the Class were present on Alumni Day: BILL DOWLING, JOE FLYNN, STEVE GRIFFIN, GORDON IRONS, JERRY MAHONEY, HUGH O'REGAN, GENE SULLIVAN, JUDGE JOHN SULLIVAN, and FATHER FRANK SULLIVAN, S.J.

ED DROHAN was recently named public information director at Action for Boston Community Development, a Ford Foundation-financed agency. Prior to the ABCD appointment he ran his own public relations company and before that was night city editor of the Boston Post for 25 years.

Beginning September 1, MARK RUSSO will be Assistant Head Master at Roslindale High School.

At the testimonial dinner for John Curley, our Class was represented by the following: JACK BURKE, ARTHUR DONOVAN, JOE DOYLE, STEVE GRIFFIN, HUGH O'REGAN, JERRY MAHONEY, and JUDGE JOHN SULLIVAN.

The Class lost one of its most faithful members when JOE DOYLE passed away suddenly on May 23. Liked by everyone, Joe will be greatly missed at our reunions. The sympathy of the Class is extended to Joe's family.

One of the prominent members of our Class, RT. REV. LEROY W. COONEY, pastor of St. Colman's Church, Brockton, passed away on June 6 at the parish rectory. The sympathy of the Class is extended to the family of MONSIGNOR COONEY.

22 NATHANIEL J. HASENFUS
15 Kirk St., W. Roxbury

News from the class is very brief this issue, since classmates are very negligent in sending in items. What news there is is both good and bad mostly bad. The passing of REV. LEO DORE, S.J. removes another of the few faculty links that remain between a class forty-three years out of B.C. and the college itself. If as many of us maintain the love that exists between professor and student is the most lasting and most worthwhile factor in education, Father Dore was indeed successful. We all loved him as we did few others. He was scholarly, gentle, efficient, and friendly. We will never forget him.

Other deaths of relatives of class members were those of JOHN HEALY of Chestnut Hill, well known contractor and brother of BEN HEALY, hockey player extraordinary of Chicago. The class expressed its sympathy to Ben, also to FATHER CHARLES EBERLE, S.J. who was with us in B.C.H. days on the passing of his sister, Marcella in Somerville. Marcella has always been a bullwark in aiding FATHER CHARLES in his work in Jamaica. REV. GEORGE EBERLE, S.J. '05 is another Jesuit and brother of Marcella to whom we send sympathy.

Better news is the acclamation merited by FRANK DALY for his excellent commencement address delivered before 3,000 at the annual commencement of Chamberlayne Junior College at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Boston, June 5. Frank's address was inspiring and well delivered.

Note to FATHER JOHN CONNORS—add another grandchild to the Hasenfus family making seventeen this one to daughter Marie in June.

Another death of Hasenfus news is the graduation of son, Dave, from B.C. in June—making three of my four sons, college graduates who selected the Heights for their higher education.

See you all in the season ticket seats this fall.

With great rejoicing the family of ART KANE were present at St. Ignatius Church on August 8th for the concelebrated Holy Mass offered by his son, Father Arthur Kane, S.J. and six other priests in thanksgiving for God's many Graces bestowed upon him. Fr. Kane was ordained in Louvain, Belgium a year ago and will be stationed at Pomfret, Conn. for further studies. A reception followed the Mass at the Philomatheia Club.

Alumni Day at the Heights—the usual old standbys in attendance: FATHER NORBERT MCINNIS, ED BURKE, TONY COMERFORD, ED DULLEA, TED GARRITY and CECE MCGOLDRICK. All seemed to have had an enjoyable time.

AL BEDARD was up in these parts attending the wedding of one of his associates and visiting his son. Recently he was host in New York to Fr. Andrew L. Bouweheis, who many of you will remember was director of the Glee Club at B. C. up until 1975. He is now Spiritual Director at Buffalo.

DR. JOE DELANEY recently arrived back in the States from a trip to Denmark where he was visiting his grandchildren. Joe is President of Bellevue Alumni and is scheduled to be the next President of the New York County Medical Association.

CECE MCGOLDRICK spent a very pleasant vacation up at Gloucester this year.

DR. ED. BURKE attended the American Dental Association Convention in San Francisco, and then flew to Hawaii and the islands, returning home via Los Angeles and Las Vegas.

TONY COMERFORD is a grand daddy again—His daughter Mary Lou has a new baby boy and is at present living in Puerto Rico.

BOB ALLEN has recently retired from the Electric Mutuals and is now acting as a consultant in insurance matters.

We have word from Florida that ED ELSTON is now living in that Sunshine State.

After a serious illness, HENRY SUPPLE is now recuperating at his summer place in New Hampshire. We all hope he has a very speedy recovery.

FATHER PAT COLLINS is, as you all know up at Gonzaga Retreat House in Gloucester—He advised that FR. HAROLD McDERMOT visited him recently. He's extending an invitation to all the class to come on up.

'24 JOSEPH L. TRIBBLE 128 Rockland Ave., Malden

A Realtor and Insurance Broker in Salem, WALTER CONWAY lives in Marblehead with Marie, B.C. '41. Rumor says the sweet notes of his fiddle are occasionally wafted across Marblehead Neck. Michael, age 20, is a Marine Lance Corporal at Camp Lejeune I hope. At least he was there before things got sticky. Susan, 18, hopes to graduate from Barnard College in '69 and Peter, 16, has two more years to go at St. John's Prep.

JOE TRIBBLE is so pressed he can't even check the news, let alone gather it. However, if you check the Class of 1962 notes you will find he is a grandfather for the second time this year.

Most sincere thanks are due to AL HYLAND for his devoted leadership, his loyal committees, and anonymous financial backers. He is "Mr. '25" in good times and bad times. With the support of the "regulars", Al gave us all a chance to stand aside and see ourselves in youth again, at our 40th Anniversary activities.

The first of our assemblies was held on May 16, in the Chapel of St. Mary's Hall, when more than 50 classmates and their families gathered to participate in Holy Mass celebrated by FATHER JOE DOHERTY, S.J., '25. (An audience count revealed 130 present, including grandchildren and the caterer.) At the breakfast which followed, GERRY SLATTERY, noted thespian of student days, once again won our applause as he stood, front and center, and expertly performed the duties of toastmaster. He introduced Father Harney, S.J. (one of our Professors in the early 20's) and then our classmate, FATHER JOHN BROWN, who eloquently presented a refreshing "Commencement Address" in "aggiornamento" style. RALPH GOOD, permanent Director of Communion Sundays for the class, and our encyclical expert, won a deserved tribute for the success of the ceremonies. He responded with pertinent references to "Rerum Novarum" (1925), "Quadragesimo Anno 1955", and "Pacem in Terris" for some future time. The "A.B.'s" translated for the "B.S.'s" (according to the old liturgy) from an old "rod" (supplied by an "S.J."). JOHN O'KEEFE contributed an epic poem for inclusion in our official records. Your correspondent spoke—cheerfully, reminding classmates present how photographs reveal the toll of years and how arteries can be heard hardening wherever we assemble.

The "Long Distance Visitor Award" was won by JOHN BROSNAW, who came from Connecticut for the day. He was offered a ticket to the Arlington Community Players' presentation of the "Three Penny Opera" featuring GERRY GREY, '25. Gerry first completed a run in one of the star roles of "My Fair Lady" and is believed to be the only protegee of the late FATHER WILL MURPHY—still basking in the spotlight as an active performer in the masque and wig set. Jack B. couldn't stay over, however, so the award was placed on file.

Finally, in spite of our best efforts to carry on our scheduled program with enthusiasm, our Communion Sunday was, for all, a day tinged with sorrow. In the morning came the sad news that DR. EUGENE GORMAN, one of our most loyal and beloved classmates, had suddenly passed away at home. Gene had planned to join us that morning with his family. Our Mass, offered for all of our departed classmates, became a special memorial to Gene this year. The Solemn High Requiem Mass on May 19th at St. Patrick Church, Watertown, was a notable demonstration of the high respect in which our classmate was held by the members of the clergy, doctors, nurses, patients, associates, admirers and friends who filled the Church.

Our hopes of seeing some long-absent classmates on this day were dashed when only the usual, "regulars" attended the scheduled activities. One most welcome addition was Detroit's highly honored citizen, JOE BEATTIE, '25, and his gracious wife. Joe brought news of other beloved classmates and even left a copy of our class newspaper, the "Junior Eagle"—December issue, 1923—which was filled with items mentioning KEAHANE, CORCORAN, DEMPSEY, HAWLEY, ROCK, KOZLOWSKY, DARLING, JULIAN McGrath, FRANK FLANAGAN, TOM KEARNS, BOB QUINN, and JOE DELANEY. The editorial staff of that sheet was comprised of J. BEATTIE, JOHN COLLINS, JIM TOBIN, EUGENE GIRONOX with B. HAWLEY, Secretary, and AL HYLAND, Business Manager. (Talented and likeable leaders they were then, and continued to be in later life). Four of the above-named staff returned in '65 to sit in still familiar surroundings—this time to contemplate the changes that have taken place since the other days, when the wine and roses of promise, fulfillments, and disappointments, formed the bouquet of College years.

At the B. C.-Holy Cross baseball game, JIM AHEARN and JOHN O'KEEFE kept the crowd interested, even though the baseball teams didn't. DR. PHIL MULLANE came down from Lowell, remained for dinner, and was last seen phoning for someone livelier than his classmates to join him in reliving "College Years."

It was great seeing such favorites as GEORGE SMITH, STEVE PATTEN, and PHIL CALLAN once again. This month marks PHIL CALLAN's 40th year as an employee of N.E. Tel. Company.

JOHN and Mrs. HANRAHAN were hosts to the class at the new Boston Sheraton Hotel. GERRY GREY sang, BILLY MARR played the piano—(somebody resurrected a copy of the class song). BILL COTTY was there from Connecticut and movies were shown of our 30th anniversary (how young we all seemed to be ten years ago in those movies). For the outstanding generosity and hospitality of the Hanrahans, we are once again indebted. The party was a huge success and those who were fortunate enough to attend will treasure the remembrance of that evening.

Little did we think that we were hearing BILLY MARR play for the last time. In July, the word came from Swansea on the Cape that a heart attack had struck Bill down and thus our ever cordial, cooperative, and helpful classmate joined his classmates in the choir of angels. May he rest in peace.

Philip J. Callan, Jr., graduated from B. C. Law School in June and won the distinction of being the first B. C. graduate to receive Membership in the Honor Society, Order of Coif (The Phi Beta Kappa of Law Schools). PHIL, SR., '25, has been a most helpful worker for B. C. affairs, devoting long hours to long distance phone calls, seeking long lost classmates.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools (Boston), LOUIS WELCH, wrote with pride of his class at B. C. and his service in the public schools since 1926 in a letter to the Pilot, published on June 26th.

FATHER LEO DORE, S.J., history teacher in our time, died July 21, at age 84.

STEVE PATTEN, basketball coach at Boston Latin School for 25 years, has also been baseball coach there for 6 years now. In that time his teams have won three baseball Championships and have been runner-up twice.

BILL COTTY, '25, now of 19 Eighth Street, Stamford, Connecticut, is featuring a pension-investment plan of unique appeal.

FRANK FLANAGAN sent along a nice letter from Brooklyn, New York (319 St. John's Place), where he is kept busy filling engagements with his instrumental ensemble. "Coming Out" parties, "Going In" parties, "Going Down and Out" affairs, or Chinese funerals, are made still more noteworthy, when Frank's fanfare furnish fugal flourishes fortetamente—they say at the Academy of Music.

by EDDIE MILLER, '57
Director, Sports Publicity

At 9:30 A.M. on September 1st, Head Coach Jim Miller blew the whistle and Captain Charlie Smith led the charge of a fine looking group of young men, wearing maroon and gold, to its initial football practice for the 1965 season.

For the statistically minded, 77 Eagles reported, 20 seniors, 24 juniors, and 33 sophomores. Twenty-two lettermen return to form the nucleus of the '65 squad with 16 lettermen having graduated.

At least 10 of the 16 lettermen lost through graduation were considered starters (moving up or down due to injuries), and 2 others were on the second unit.

Six of the starting seven linemen, two top halfbacks and the number one and two fullbacks, all graduated.

However, Jim Miller's 4th edition of Eagles is "bigger, stronger, faster and deeper" than any of his preceding three teams which posted excellent 8-2, 6-3, and 6-3 records for a combined 20-8 total.

The big missing ingredient is experience which is lacking with so many sophomores on the squad. Therefore, the outlook for the Eagles for '65 should be termed as a "re-building year," and as trite as the expression may be, it is nevertheless appropriate.

Still Coach Miller looks ahead to the upcoming season with confidence. "We have a number of good men returning and some excellent prospects have moved up from last year's freshman team," said Miller. "Once they gain some varsity game experience, they'll be among the best. Each year we've been increasing in size, strength and quickness—especially in our line. This was one of the first areas we worked toward developing our first year at B.C. (1962) and I feel we have now reached this goal. I think you'll see a stronger and better balanced running game this year to compliment our passing game. This is so especially because of the presence of several sophomore backs with excellent speed and power. If we can avoid that old injury hex, and if our young players come along quickly, I think we'll do all right against a good schedule and just may surprise. One thing's for sure, we'll be in every ball game and we'll improve with every ball game. Last year, you'll remember, we had as our goal beating some of the outstanding teams B.C. had not defeated in recent years. We accomplished this to a great extent in defeating teams like Syracuse and Air Force and came close against Army and Tennessee. You can bet we will continue this type of thinking this season too!"

Concerning the new rule changes, Boston College will follow pretty much but not completely, the two platoon system. The squad will be prepared to go both ways. Several men will definitely play both offense and defense with a few men specializing.

In addition to changes on the playing squad, there were some changes in the coaching staff this year. The new Offensive Line coach is Emerson Dromgold, a native of Pennsylvania, replacing Tracy Mehr who joined the faculty at Amherst as a professor of physical education and assistant football coach. Dromgold is a Marine veteran, a graduate of the University of Detroit and had been a professor of physical education and coach at Olivet College, Michigan until he accepted his present position at the Heights.

Taking over as Defensive Backfield coach is Lee Royer, a native of Baltimore and a graduate of West Chester State

Mr. College Hockey — John "Snooks" Kelley, the Dean of American College Hockey Coaches took a young, inexperienced team last season, rated a year away by the experts, and guided it to the final game of the National Championship Tournament. The "winningest" coach in college hockey added a 24-7 record (his 27th winning season in 28 years) to his brilliant total which now stands at 386 wins against only 164 losses and 14 ties for a phenomenal percentage of .703. "Snooks" coached the '49 Eagles to the National Championship and has added 8 New England and 7 Eastern Championships and 8 trips to the N.C.A.A. Championships over the years.

Mr. Basketball — Bob Cousy, the brilliant playmaker and scorer who triggered the Boston Celtics to six World Championships in his last seven years with the club will be starting his 3rd year of coaching at Boston College. The "Cous" — who played in the N.B.A. for 13 years (and in 13 All Star games) was a great All-American at Holy Cross before joining the Celtics in 1950. Bob hiked his first year record from 10-11 to a remarkable 22-7 and an N.I.T. bid in his "sophomore" season for a combined 32-18 mark and an excellent percentage of .640.

Another college year about to begin and this one will wind up as our Fortieth out of the College. Where have they gone? How many do we have left? Ambitious plans by Prexy DOC GORMAN for our celebration; not positive of it, but believe BOB DALEY will be chairman for the celebration next spring. Met Fr. JOE MANTLE this past week, looking hale and well; he's pastor of St. John Chrysostom's Church in West Roxbury. This brings to mind the death of Fr. BOB HURLEY, pastor in Sudbury. He was with us through sophomore, and I remember well our 15th Outing at Stow—there was the incident of the famous Gorman glass and EDDIE EGAN's subsequent admiration of the place of damage, remember?

Slow me down, Lord. Ease the pounding of my heart by quieting my mind. Steady my hurried pace. Give me calmness amidst the confusion of my day. Break the tension of my nerves with soothing music that lives in my memory. Help me to know the magical restoring powers of sleep. Teach me the art of taking minute vacations . . . of slowing down to chat with a friend, to read a good book, to look at a flower.

"Remind me each day of the fable of the hare and the tortoise, that I may know that there is more to life than speed. Let me look upward toward the branches of the towering oak and remember that it grew great and strong because it grew slowly. Slow me down, Lord, slow me down."

Met DAN HEALEY at Hyannis early in the summer; he has a place at Bass River and runs down from Framingham when he can. The old red hair is a bit faded, but there—those had to be CHARLIE SCHROEDER acted the proud papa this August when daughter Sheila married a B. C. boy, Bob Feeney. He teaches at Technical High in Boston. JOHN DORSEY and JOHN DOOLEY represented the class. That Dooley still hits the ball well. Played New Seabury with him a couple of weeks ago. Maybe if he broke an arm I could beat him. He took me for a deuce, but it was well worth it for the pleasure of the day. John's brother Charles Owen celebrated his 25th wedding anniversary recently, too, at the Wollaston Golf Club.

We may all be proud of the most recent achievement of mate CHARLIE CARROLL, President of the Nassau County Bar Association of New York and Board Chairman of the Long Island National Bank in Hicksville. He is listed now as among Long Island's "Top 400 Influentials." Heard very recently from J. HART CLINTON of San Francisco and San Mateo. Dors had called him while he was in the area and had missed him, so I gave Hart the Weston address of John. The Cunninghams are off to do France, Holland, England and Ireland, with a special date set up for the Portmarnock Country Club, north of Dublin. Keep healthy and get some of that weight off, won't you?

About the time we have attained a certain peace of mind Thomas O'C Murray jumps out of the bushes, points a finger and sets a due date for copy.

This job of writing a column of class notes has something in common with being marooned on an island. Three times a year we seal messages in bottles and cast them into the ocean. From the dearth of comment by men of the class we have the uneasy feeling that the bottles never reach land.

TOM AGLIO from Orlando, Florida a surprise visitor at the front door one hot summer night. With him son Richard who is a senior with the Jesuits at Spring Hill, Alabama. From Tom's glowing comments about life in Florida there is a suspicion that residents of that state must memorize a Chamber of Commerce pitch before they come North. . . OWEN DOOLEY and his wife Alice recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. Owen is now going to play nine holes instead of 18, and Alice will give up hurdling snow banks . . . The last of the Carroll's received his degree from Boston College last June. Wallace, Jr., with his wife Amelia (Newton College '64) will live in Chicago. . . MARTIN KANE (Senior Editor, Sports Illustrated) and his wife Helen have left the velvet lawns of Massapequa to move into Greenwich Village. The Kane's recently spent three months in Europe. Their oldest daughter, Maureen, is married and living in London.

That was an extremely pleasant dinner in late spring to honor John P. Curley on his retirement from the service of Boston College. It was an evening of unabashed sentimentality, and John deserved the tributes that came from all across the country. The words from Othello refer to John . . . Soft . . . you: a word or two before you go. I have done the state some service, and they know it.

Now and then there is a pleasant surprise that reassures me that I am not writing this column from a desert island . . . JIM FORSYTHE, in Boston from Washington where he with the NASA, telephoned. His son, Mike, a senior in a Washington High School, talked with the Admissions Office about doing pre-med work here in Newton. Jim and I talked about the group that entered in our Junior year. He, JOHN MORIARTY, TIM MANNIX and ED FITZSIMMONS. They were a stalwart crew.

Congratulations to DICK CONDON on his election to the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association. From now we all sit on the 50-yard line . . . I didn't hear until too late that a dinner was to be given for TOM O'BRIEN on his retirement from coaching the Athol High athletic teams. Tom is well respected in Athol. When you mention his name, the residents put their hands over their hearts and bow their heads. Tom still denies coldly that he blundered that punt in the Fordham game with the back of his head. JACK RYDER's daughter, Janet, was married in June to William Hayes.

DOC NOLAN and I sit in the supermarket parking lot swapping gossip while the shopping is done. No basket pushing for us. There are a few rugged individuals left.

Whatever happened to PETE CAREY and TONY McCRANN? and ED COLLINS?

A while back I telephoned to JOE FITZGERALD in Wellesley. He is part of the reason why Wellesley does so well in getting them into the various colleges. Joe's daughter, Celia, will be a junior this year at Boston University. If she is as good a teacher as her father, she will be a good one . . . JOHN O'LOUGHLIN, Head of the History Department at Emmanuel, spent August in Europe. His son, John, Jr., is a junior at the Heights while David is in Belmont High.

It is embarrassing that so few references are made in this column about class members in the clergy. Isn't that I am anticlerical. I simply do not know where they are. I wish some of them would write to me because I am getting to a point in life where I am willing to swap a few high-living wasters for the company of the clergy. It would be good to have a friend at court.

VIC NEWTON's son, Victor, Jr., a Jesuit, is at M. I. T. working for a doctorate in Physics. All of which weakens my belief in the theory of heredity. I can remember Vic and I looking at each other dolefully while we were taking a condition examination—in that's right—Physics. Bless that Fr. Lynch and his "You're not at the Old Howard, nor, Barry."

I had a pleasant telephone conversation with MSGR. FRANCIS S. SHEA who is pastor of St. Ann's in West Bridgewater. Frank was one of the most brilliant editors in the history of the Stylus. He has two brothers, Fr. Leo at Boston College and Fr. Joseph at Holy Cross. (How did Frank get away?)

It was Fr. Leo A. Shea who told me a story about the original plans for Boston College that none of us knows . . . One of the most beautiful aspects of the University is the entrance from Commonwealth Avenue. I am sure it is an optical illusion but the rows of lindens/trees seem to draw closer as though to bring into clear focus the front of Gasson² (the Tower Building). "But it isn't the front of Gasson which faces Commonwealth Avenue," said Fr. Shea, "it's the side of the building." In the original layout of the ground plans the front of the building is on the left facing the Science Building. It was first planned that a road would run diagonally across what is now a small parking lot and come out on Commonwealth Avenue where Alumni Hall now stands.

Just to determine if anyone reads these columns . . . in my library there is a bound volume that has a series of controversial articles on Mary Baker Eddy: The Story of Her Life and The History of Christian Science, written by Georgine Milmine. The articles originally appeared in the now defunct McLure's Magazine from January to July in 1907 and from February to June in 1908. The articles are out of print and this privately bound volume is the only one in existence. Is there a Jesuit at Boston College who has an interest in this field of study?

JIM DUFFY's daughter, Mary Jane, will be a freshman this September at New Rochelle . . . As for myself, I am still publishing The New England Teacher. Jack and Steve have their degrees from Boston College. Bill is a senior this year and Paula is a sophomore. And lately, they seem to be building streets that are all up hill!

And there are the sad notes . . . JACK RYDER's mother and CHARLIE DRISCOLL's brother died recently. There are three men of the class who died, AND DONOVAN, GENE FITZGERALD and CHAUNCE MULLEN. Requiescant in pace.

Your prayers are asked for ED BODAN's wife and for the mother of FR. ED HOGAN S.J. Sorry more of you could not attend our May dinner. Those who came did enjoy the evening. We were especially happy to see FATHER JIM McNAMARA and VIN SULLIVAN. FR. JIM, who said Grace and blessed our newly elected president TOM McGRATH, is stationed on the South Shore. Pres. McGrath has since assumed the managementship of Operations at Logan Intl Airport and son Tom is a B.C. student.

Wonder if LLOYD CARNEGIE who has been setting up a banking system in Teheran was able to talk with FR. JOE CONNELL in Baghdad. JERRY TREPANIER reported attending a '29 meeting at Kennebunkport, Maine with Fathers JOHN FRAWLEY, FRANK HARKINS, JOE MAHONEY and FRANK McDONNELL recently. Fr. Harkins is back in civilization as pastor in North Woburn. Fr. McDonnell, active in Civil Rights as he has long been in Labor was one of those compassionate and courageous people who went to Selma. JERRY TREPANIER JR. graduated from Stonehill with honors in June and has joined his father's company Advanced Finance. JOE DONAHEU's younger daughter distinguished herself at Emmanuel.

Is DEAN O'HARA correct Frank? ED KEEFE, Nashua Supt. of Schools reports Ed Jr. Marine Corps Captain in Santo Domingo, Chris Lt. Army at Russian Language School, Monterey, Calif. and Timothy at Maine Maritime Academy. DR. BERNARD DALY of Lawrence, died in May. May his soul rest in peace.

Please remember in your prayers GEORGE LOVE; the sister of JOHN MACHIN; and the father of AL LANDRIGAN. Condolences to the family of WALTER MURRAY who died suddenly during the summer. Bucky Warren and Jim Connolly represented the class.

Congratulations and best wishes are in order for Father JOHN FOLEY who celebrated his 25th anniversary as a priest with a Mass and reception at St. Stephen's Church, Framingham.

Father PAUL H. RUTTLE, S.J. of Boston College High School was the principal speaker at a recent meeting of the New England unit of the Catholic Library Association.

WILLIAM M. HOGAN Jr.'s appointment as a member of the Planning Committee of the Boston College Seminars was announced earlier this year by Thomas J. Galligan Sr., chairman of the Committee and executive vice president of the Boston Edison Company. Bill's daughter, Mary, was married recently to Charles Patrick O'Connor, a third year student at Boston College Law School.

Father CHARLES F. DONOVAN, S.J., uncle of the bride, officiated at the marriage of Charlie O'Brien's daughter, Maureen, to Mr. Maurice Joseph Daley. Both the bride and her husband are graduates of the Boston College School of Education.

At a recent gathering at John C. Gill's (Boston) College, 1931, PETE CHESNULEVICH and MARIO ROMANO were nailing with John P. Curley events of the early 30's at Boston College. Pete is with the Nashua school system and Mario serves as athletic director in Plymouth.

JOHN PATTERSON was the subject of a recent Pilot Profile. After a career in the State Department John is now directing the work of the Boston Council for International Visitors, a private non-profit organization which guides foreign journalists, teachers, diplomats, students, etc., around Boston and its environs.

Rear Admiral JOHN J. LYNCH who has been serving as commander of Carrier Division Eighteen and Task Group 83.3 is returning to Pensacola, Florida where he is trained as an aviation cadet. Now he will be Chief of Naval Air Basic Training.

PHILIP MCNIFF has been named Director and Librarian of the Boston Public Library.

JAMES CONNELLY, last year's president of the Alumni Association, was elected New England District Governor of the Advertising Federation of America. He served as the host governor for the National AFA convention which was held in Boston.

Dr. JOE BRENNAN has been elected to honorary membership in the Columbia Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

JACK CONNELLY celebrated his 25th wedding anniversary this summer.

DR. EUGENE McDONALD is scheduled to give a paper on Roentgenology in Tel Aviv at St. Louis. His son is at Harvard, one daughter at Rosmont and another daughter teaching at the University of North Carolina.

'34 REV. JOHN A. SAUNDERS
St. Agatha's Rectory
432 Adams St., Milton

Our thirty first anniversary was marked by a very splendid gathering at Alumni Hall on Wednesday evening, May 18, 1965. Some fifty classmates were present to honor the Priest members celebrating the Silver Jubilee of their ordination. Plaques commemorating the occasion were presented to each of the Fathers in the name of the class, by our pre-eminent chairman, BOB GLENNON. On behalf of all the Fathers, your correspondent offers sincere thanks for a very memorable evening.

The JOHN MCCARTHY's spent the month of July seeing all the sights in California. ROBERT J. GLENNON's Law Office is now located in the Parker House Office Building, 44 School St., Boston. Helen & TOM CONNAUGHTON observed their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on August 29. Congratulations.

Congratulations also to Fr. JAMES SHEEHAN who will observe his Silver Jubilee on December 21, 1965. Jim is Pastor of St. John's Church, Stonge, South Dakota. WALTER KELLEY's boy, John, will leave soon for Rome, where he will continue his studies at the North American College. JAMES SULLIVAN son, James Jr., is entering the Freshman class at the Heights. James Senior has a long trip each morning, from South Boston to Wilmington, representing the Air Force at "AVCO". TIM DONOHUE's daughter, Sheila and Francis X. Boes were married on June 27, at St. John's Church, Newton. Your correspondent had the pleasure of officiating. Several of our classmates were on hand, to wish the bride and groom well on this happy occasion.

The latest addition to our ranks is a son, born to JOHN & Mary McGILLICUDDY. Congratulations. DAN CORNIN, as he has the past several Summers, taught a course in Public Welfare at Cornell Univ. Summer School, this past July. As usual, the poor-mans Miami, (L. St.) was the scene of many an impromptu class gathering. The sun lovers included FRANK BROW, DAN O'KEEFE, FR. JACK FOGARTY, FR. BILL NOONAN, JIM SULLIVAN, NEAL HOLLAND, BILL CARR, RALPH DIMATTIA, FR. JACK SAUNDERS. All very healthy, Thank You.

Fr. JOHN DAY toured Germany on a Bicycle this past summer "Dillon" can be seen almost any day doing his 10 mile tint through the Blue Hills.

We were saddened by the sudden deaths of three of our classmates, JOHN DUGAN, FABIAN ROUKE and JOSEPH HALEY.

Congratulations to Monsignor LARRY RILEY who received an Honorary Degree from the College at the past commencement exercises, and for his recent appointment as Rector of St. John's Seminary.

Congratulations also to NEIL OWENS who was elected President of the New York Telephone Co. and assumed his new position in July.

And since congratulations appear to be in order, how about double congratulations to BRENT GORDON who married off two daughters, Mary and Ellen (BC '65), at a double wedding in August.

CHARLIE RICHARDSON, President of Waldorf System Inc., is now operating out of new Executive Offices at 512 W. 58th St. New York—and making his home in Upper Montclair, N.J.

TOM MAHONEY gave the main commencement Day address to the graduating class of Sacred Heart College in June.

The sympathy of the class is extended to LEO HORGAN on the death of his wife in August. . . . FRED MOORE, Captain, US Navy has been ordered from Washington to become Chief of Staff and Aide to the Chief of Naval Air Training at Pensacola, Florida. . . . Congratulations to the TOM SHERMANS on the birth of their fourth child and first son. Tom is with the F.B.I. in Upper Darby, Pa.

Congratulations to TOM GAQUIN for his election to the Graduate Athletic Board, however, don't hesitate to contact him for special seats for all athletic contests. Tom has been promoted to Director of Special Services for John Hancock Insurance Company.

We want to offer our own best wishes to the Silver Jubiliarians of our class. MONSIGNOR BOB SENNOTT who on August 27 celebrated a special Mass at St. Catherine's Church, Norwood to commemorate 25 years as a priest. At this same anniversary Mass, BILL and Lucille DOHERTY renewed their marriage vows for they, also, were silver Jubiliarians commemorating 25 years of marriage bliss. A reception followed in the evening on the lawn of the Doherty home in Hyde Park.

ED and Mary PHILLIPS also renewed their marriage vows at a Special Mass at St. Mary's Chapel at the Heights on Sunday, August 29 at 4 P.M. after 25 years of marriage. The officiating priest was our own Monsignor JOHNNIE QUIRK of St. Joseph's in the West End. A reception followed at Alumni Hall. Many of their relatives and friends were in attendance.

BEN and Marie HINES have moved from Hingham to Riverside Circle in Marshfield. Ben looks as if he can challenge the present day runners for the mile. Ben is a Special Lecturer at Chamberlayne Junior College.

GEORGE CURTIN and MONSIGNOR QUIRK have become established golfers. They were the winners of the special tournament at the Charles River Country Club and are now willing to take on all competition. Do you hear this CHARLIE FALLON?

ANDY DOMINICK, Asst. Superintendent of Schools of Manchester, New Hampshire has been appointed by the President of the Alumni of Boston College to serve on the Alumni Board. The best of luck, Andy.

GEORGE MCGUNNIGLE of Hartford, Conn. is now a qualified member of the Million Dollar Round Table Organization. This represents the Hall of fame for Insurance Brokers in America. It couldn't happen to a nicer guy, the best of luck, George.

LEO COVENEY and JIM MCCORRY were present at Alumni Day and really enjoyed the festivities.

Fr. JOHN KIELTY wants to express his regrets for not being able to run a picnic at his mother's summer home at Humarock. His lovely mother, at age 84, spent a long stay at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and this caused the cancellation of our Summer get-together.

Imagine Dr. JIM BRAGAN being a grandfather. However, he can't get over the fact that he is married to a grandmother. Tina, however, doesn't mind, she loves her grandson who calls her "nana."

JOHN & Dell BONNER have joined the charmed circle of travelers headed by Dr. FREDDIE FORD.

Fr. BOB McEWEN has been appointed by the President to serve on the National Consumer Council and is still active at the Heights with the Baron, Fr. FRED ADEL-MAN.

The DOHERTY's from Hyde Park are planning to have a get-together for our Class in their spacious room in the early Fall.

I hope all of you have enjoyed a good summer vacation.

39 THOMAS F. TURNAN

Six Johnson Rd., Arlington, 02174

From hustings nigh-the-Muddy to near Hastings-on-the-Hudson Thirty-Niners are active this term. JOHN F. X. GAQUIN is an indefatigable candidate for the Boston School Committee. His strategy, at this writing, doesn't embrace any Latin campaign slogans, but who can forget that "Carpe diem" of other days! Hastings-on-the-Hudson is something else again but it is only 13 air miles from Chappaqua, N.Y., where DICK CASEY hangs his hat. Dick, senior vice-president of Benton & Bowles, the alliterative advertising agency, and former head of information management there has been appointed director of administration management for the firm.

V. PAUL MCCAULEY, manager of Customer Relations for American Airlines system in New York City, still sustains his interest in community affairs which began when he read the Declaration of Independence from the back window of the Old State House in Boston on July 4, 1934, nobly arrayed in peruke, pantaloons and pumps. He is past president of the Roslyn Heights, L.I., N.Y., Democratic Club, past president of the Civic Association and perennial pillar of St. Aiden's men's choir there.

TOM BRADLEY marked St. Swithin's Day by visiting The Heights en route home to Tenafly, N.J. Tom is president of Bradley Laboratories, ethical pharmaceutical manufacturers and executive vice-president of Sproul and Associates, the New York advertising agency. He has seven children from 24 to 3 years. We also learned from him that the opposite of 'ethical' is not 'unethical' but 'proprietary', at least in the pharmaceutical field.

FR. GERRY BUCKE has been reviewing books about Ireland in the Boston PILOT for years so his transition to the Green Sheet went practically unnoticed. Fr. Bucke attempts to justify the switch by pointing out that he now has a stable of 12 horses at Cardinal Cushing Academy in West Newbury, Mass., where he is Headmaster. The ZIP code number presently used by REV. JOHN DENNIS CROWLEY, S.J., is Rome (242) Italy where he has been studying at Collegio S. Roberto Bellarmino. His thesis will be defended in October and he expects to be home in time for the Holy Cross game. Fr. John has been looking forward to a reunion with FR. BILL FITZGERALD, S.J., who planned to attend the American Academy in Rome this summer.

Just after the last issue of Alumni News went to press, the balloon went up in the Dominican Republic, leaving Marine Colonel JOE QUILTY in the middle of the Santo Domingo uproar. JOE is still there and safe although it was hectic for a while. In the early stages he managed to get that message through to the States to his sister in an amateur radio contact set up by a well known Harvard Square haberdasher.

His founding, earlier, of the BC Club of Lower Brattle Street is far overshadowed by JOE MCCARTHY'S latest achievement whereby he immortalized an American institution. Through JOE'S efforts Boston now has a real, official Allen's Alley, in the theatrical district. The Alley, formerly Van Rensselaer Place, runs off Tremont Street alongside the Saxon Theater, the Majestic of our day. Writer MCCARTHY attended the dedication ceremonies this summer on the day which, oddly, coincided with the release of Fred Allen's Letters, edited by JOE and published by Doubleday. Not far from Allen's Alley, over on Winchester Street, JOE PANDOLFINO, M.D., apparently Thirty-Nine's sole surviving bachelor, is engaged in general practice.

Out of the service these five years, Commander DAVE FITZGERALD, USN (Ret.), is Chairman of the Malden (Mass.) Redevelopment Authority. The Fitzgeralds have four sons, 12, 14 and 18-year-old twins. After several years in the Hopkinton school system, where he lives, ED ROONEY is teaching English in Natick. He is a Commander in the Coast Guard Reserve and has one son, Michael, 14. FRANK CAREY is Director of Athletics in the Natick school system. BILL FEENEY is Assistant Principal of Edward Everett School, Dorchester, a member of the Executive Board, Boston Teachers Union, Local 66 (AFL-CIO) and a Trustee of the Pension Fund.

Not to be outdone by Associated Press or local television we also, note the nuptials in Hinsdale, Ill., of Karen Sheen and Francis X. Cuddy, Jr., son of FRANK CUDDY, Commissioner of Assessing for the City of Boston. The ceremony was performed by Auxiliary Bishop Fulton J. Sheen of New York, uncle of the bride. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cuddy, Jr., are students at Marquette University, Milwaukee.

BILL BROWNE is Acting Supervisor of Small Loans for the Massachusetts Banking Commission. Scrupulously obeying orders to slow down, after scary hospital sessions BILL GLENNON, ED HALL and PHIL THOMPSON are back in the office following cardio-vascular disturbances. BILL HOLLAND is a specialist in administrative positions for the Snelling & Snelling employment service in Quincy.

Our twenty-sixth reunion, the final event of Pres. JIM RICCIUTI's administration, was a successful affair although the 15-hour Alumni Day program diluted luncheon attendance somewhat. There was a quorum of Thirty-Niners who elected DR. AL BRANCA to succeed JIM and DR. FRANK SENNOTT vice-president. After these variables in the ritual force of habit prevailed and T. TURNAN wound up as scribe again.

The Class offers its sympathy to JUDGE JEROME P. TROY and its prayers for his wife who died suddenly this summer.

They came from near and far, from Brighton and Baghdad, from Connecticut and California, from New Hampshire and Florida. They came by plane and train, by bus and street car. And so it was little wonder that our twenty-fifth anniversary year of celebration was the tremendous success it was. To the architects of the general program, BILL JOY, TOM CUDMORE, and Dr. JIM DOONAN, a huge vote of thanks for their efforts to insure the overwhelming appeal of each function is due. To the fellows who chaired the numerous events on the social calendar—HENRY DESMOND and HARRY WHITE, who handled the Dinner at the Statler; TOM FORD and ELMORE CAMPBELL who headed the Laetere Communion Breakfast; JOE MCKENNEY who staged the Sports Night; Monsignor BILL GRANVILLE and BOB O'MALLEY who supervised our on-campus lecture; Father JOHN DACEY and DICK WRIGHT who arranged the Family Communion Dinner; and TOM CUDMORE who handled the arrangements for both the Homecoming Champagne Party and the fabulous Wianno weekend, and Kay Wright, bless her, who worked so hard to convince so many wives that the Wianno weekend was just what the doctor ordered for their tired husbands (she didn't say that the doctor was her own Richard, a member of the committee also)—to these and their generous committees our gratitude for a job well done.

True to our early prediction, Kingston PAT RAFFERTY proved the top golfer in the class tournament at Wianno. Pat turned back a pretty classy field of hookers and hackers as he came up with the low gross score. Other champions crowned during this memorable weekend were TOM POWERS, whose bright red pajamas won for him the most nattily dressed award; Dr. JIM DOONAN whose thrice-told medico story doled DAVE LUCEY and BILL JOY for story teller honors, and Dr. JOE SHANNON, checked in from San Jose, California to edge Dr. GERRY CONVERSE, Winter Haven, Florida in the I-Came-The-Farthest-Department. There was no contest in the musical department as usually sedate Wianno rocked to the piano gymnastics of PAT RAFFERTY as he led the Wives' Glee Club through their repertoire of songs sung while doing the dinner dishes. And hats off to the clergy for its wonderful representation. Among others we met Fathers JOHN COFFEY, JOHN DACEY, FRANK LALLY, BILL GRANVILLE, FRANK CONNORS, BILL CARPENTER, PAUL NASH and JOE SHEA. Also adding to the enjoyable moments were the JIM RYDERS, TED HEASLIPS, JACK MORRISSEYS, GERRY RUSSELLS up from Virginia, the DICK POWERS from New York, JIM SUPPLES, ED NAGLES from Scarsdale, New York, the FRANK AHEARNS, JOHN MCMAUGHILNS, TOM CUDMORES, HARRY WHITES, BILL JOYS, TOM FORDS and DAVE LUCEYS, not to forget the HENRY DESMONDS, the BOB McGOVERNS and TOM DUNCANS.

Incidentally, for those who for one reason or another missed the Wianno outing, a repeat performance is scheduled for the same weekend next year. Accommodations are limited, so you better contact TOM CUDMORE immediately to avoid being shut out.

For the brothers in the hinterlands who couldn't make Alumni Week, we hope this capsule report (everybody's conscious of space these days, especially magazine editors) will fill the bill to a certain degree. The turnout on Alumni Day for the Mass with which the activities began was most pleasing. Heading the delegation were DAVE LUCEY, ALBIE KEOUGH, JIM THOMPSON, ED BARRETT, PAUL GREELEY, VINNIE NASCA, up from Virginia, SHERM ROGAN, ED KENNEY who flew in from Chicago, and PAUL DUFFEY on from Philadelphia. Came noontime, and many of the local contingent obviously took a longer than usual lunch hour because the luncheon in the Faculty Lounge of McElroy Commons was completely subscribed. Must have been those fancy golf caps BILL JOY ordered for the parade of classes that brought the boys out.

Thanks to Father BILL CARPENTER for providing the musical element, Dr. JOHNNY GOODMAN for furnishing transportation with his antique autos, and RAYNHAM ED CAMERON for presenting in his best Marine Corps fashion a quickie close order drill instruction, the class put its best foot forward as it led the way to the ball field. Despite the wincing and rooting of GEORGE RYAN, FRANK BURNS, ED KENNEY, SHERM ROGAN, WALT CARRIGAN, ART HASSETT, and Father PAT MOLLOY to mention a few, the Cross acted rudely and bit the hand that had fed them earlier. The buffet after the game proved another top shelf affair that wound up in a 1940 version of the famed radio show, Can You Top This One? Raconteurs leading the way were ED BARRETT, SHERM ROGAN, BOB PHILLIPS, JOE MCKENNEY, PAUL GREELEY, and TOM POWERS. Fathers JOHN DACEY, BILL GRIFFIN and KNICK-KNACK MURPHY.

Beyond Commencement itself, the most impressive affair of the week was the Baccalaureate Mass and Communion Dinner. Quite a thrill for the large '40 representation to see Monsignor BILL GRANVILLE, Father CHARLIE MCCARTHY, and Father JOHN DACEY as officers of the Mass, and then to hear Monsignor FRANK LALLY preach the sermon. Must be the good life they lead because they still look like altar boys. Following the Mass the dining room in Lyons Hall overflowed as the off-spring took over. The angels with dirty faces back on Homecoming Day in the School of Education auditorium were now scrubbed to within an inch of their lives. With perfect weather they were out in full numbers, and made quite a showing. Thanks to Dr. JOHNNY GOODMAN, our antique auto buff, the party took on a carnival atmosphere following the dinner as the youngsters were driven about the campus in Benny's early vintage station wagon. Among the family groups helping to swell the numbers were the BOB HENDERSONS from Lynn, JIM SUPPLES, BILL GILIGANS, TOM DUNCANS, EZIO TESONES, HENRY McMAHONS, JOE MCKENNEYS, BILL JOYS, TED HEASLIPS, JIM DOONANS, FRANK DRINANS, HENRY DESMONDS, and JOHN DALTONS.

Commencement Day 1965 is a day that won't soon be forgotten by some thirty members of the class. Invited to serve as Marshals for the exercises, they acted in this role for the degree candidates from the various schools, and formed an honor guard for the honorary degree recipients. Included in the group were TOM DUFFEY, JOE MCKENNEY, BILL GILIGAN, JIM SUPPLE, TED HEASLIP, TIM FAHERTY, BOB PHILLIPS, HARRY WHITE, HENRY DESMOND, JACK MORRISSEY, ED CAMERON, your correspondent, ED BARRETT, ART CULLEN, BILL POWERS, DICK WRIGHT, TOM DUNCAN, JIM DOONAN, FRANK DRINAN, and BOB TILLEY. Following the exercises the group was invited to a reception given by Father Rector to the Honorary Degree recipients, the marshals, and their wives. For the red carpet treatment we received, our thanks to Father Walsh and Father McManus. So much for the week that was—tops.

Speaking of reunions, we had a most pleasant one with FRED DOW in Paris this past summer. Looks wonderful. Sends along his regards to DAVE LUCEY. Fred is living in Paris where he is associated with Dow Chemical. And still on the rubberneck tour, we later bumped into ED BARRETT on the main street in Lucerne, Switzerland. We were on our way for a boat ride on the lake, while Ed was shepherding a group of young tourists across the street, having just returned from the same boat trip. Also travelling to Europe this past summer were JIM DOONAN and DICK WRIGHT who were members of Cardinal Cushing's official party during the prelate's visit to Ireland.

With the football season now upon us, the names of RYAN and REARDON are popping all over my typewriter. And why not? George is head football coach at Boston Trade School where he is also a member of the faculty. His teams have been very successful in the Boston Conference. Yes, that's LEO REARDON's son Dave who has been making the headlines as a member of Jim Miller's backfield squad. Congratulations, Leo.

Still in the Malden area, WALTER CARRIGAN, with the MD suffixed to his name, has his office on Pleasant St. Daughter Diane is a student at Dunbarton College in Washington, D.C.

TOM DUFFEY, residing in West Roxbury with wife Mary and seven little Duffeys, is with the Air Force as a civil attorney. His base of operations is Hanscom Field, Bedford, Office of the Staff Judge Advocate. Young Tom, a student at St. Sebastian's, is captain of the Arrows current football team.

Was nice to have HENRY SCHMIDT back with us for Alumni week festivities. Henry, now Captain Henry Schmidt, USN, is stationed at Penn State University. Makes his home with wife Lorraine and three little boys at State College, Penna.

Among those who helped to make Wian- no a social success were JIM and Mary RYAN. The Ryans reside in Dorchester. Jim is Security Director with the Navy at Fargo Building. Young Jim is a student at University of Miami while sister Ellen is a BU co-ed. Next to Pat Rafferty, Daddy Jim is the last one I would like to meet in match play on any golf course.

ALBIE KEOUGH who came to the Heights from Jamaica Plain, has shifted his allegiance to Rosindale. Albie has his own trucking firm. Youngsters are at Regis, BCH, and Catherine Labouré Nursing School.

SHERMAN ROGAN has his own law offices on West Newton Street in Boston.

Missed him at the reunion, but understand that Father NEIL HARRINGTON is still at St. Sebastian Prep School. Quite an amateur radio ham. LEO LOGUE still lives in Malden where he is a division manager for Boyle-Midway Inc. in the same city.

JOE CRONIN is now associated with Howard Johnson in the legal department of the firm. Lives with wife Ruth in Needham.

'41 HENRY J. SHEEHAN 6 Crescent Ave., Newton Centre

In anticipation of a highly successful twenty-fifth anniversary year, a committee has been formed to carry out a full and highly entertaining program throughout the year, starting in early fall. Members of the class comprising the committee are as follows: Chairman ART JONES, Treasurer DICK DALEY, BERNIE ROBINSON, HARRY FULCHINO, ELMER ROSS, FRANK BELLEW, BILL BREWIN, FR. JOHN CONNOR, LARRY CONNORS, BILL HOULIHAN, Mgr. JOE MAGUIRE, DR. GEORGE McMANAMA, JIM MURPHY, RALPH STRUZZIERO, PAUL TRUE DAVE WHITE, TOM GALLIGAN, BILL SHARKEY, JOHN AMBROGNE, HANK SHEEHAN, NICK SOTTILE, MARTY CAREW, Mgr. GEORGE KERR, PHIL MOLLOY and FRAN BLOUIN.

A get-together was held this past spring at Alumni Hall the feature of which was a showing of the film of the never-to-be-forgotten Sugar Bowl classic against Tennessee. Lest anyone be hazy about it, 1941 had first starters in that contest. (Or was it second?)

LEN FRISOLI, the veteran FBI sleuth, is the proud father of eight, the oldest of which is entering B.C. Law this fall along with JACK CALLAHAN'S son. Jack, also with the same number of progeny, has a son Neal at Shadowbrook. Another member of the Bureau, DAN CALLAHAN, is supervisor at the Washington, D.C. headquarters.

We understand that ED MINIHAN is currently district supervisor for John E. Cain Co. We were delighted to run into DAN REGAN, now retired from the Marines after a long and distinguished career. Dan is with the Parole Dept. at Norfolk Prison Colony, and his son is going into his second year at Holy Cross.

MARTY CAREW has recently been appointed co-manager of the Copley Sq. office of Hornblower & Weeks. The father of five, TOM JORDAN is marketing assistant for Enjay Chemical Co.

The sympathy of the class is offered to CHARLIE MURPHY on the death of his father.

DICK DEVEREUX has a boy finishing up at Providence this year. Dick is office manager for Superior Installation & Oil Burner Service Co. in Somerville. We note with pride that RALPH RYAN is not only the father of six but has three grandchildren! Some sort of trophy should be forthcoming for this. Ralph is still teaching in the Boston school system, and his son Robert is with the Air Force in England.

STEVE WHELAN is a claims examiner for American Mutual. JACK DALEY is with Stone & Webster as an appraisal engineer.

FR. JOE MURPHY, attending a chaplains convention locally, fortunately was able to be present at our meeting. He is a lieutenant-colonel stationed at Fort Gordon, Georgia, with 95th Civil Affairs Group, Military Government, Strategic Army Corps, and has been elected president of the Fort Gordon chapter of the Military Government Assn.

The sympathy of the class is extended to FRANK BELLEW whose wife died recently. Fran is national sales manager of Thompson Bros. Boat Co. of Peshtigo, Wisconsin. He lives in Canton and has a daughter at B.C. School of Education.

ED SAWYER, retired from the Air Force as lieutenant-colonel, is residing down on the Cape, with his family of three girls and a boy.

HANK TOCZYLOWSKI tells us that his son, a star athlete at Arlington High, is matriculating at Choate this fall. Hank's eldest has completed his plebe year at West Point where he was defensive safety on the first year team. Better look to your laurels, Hank.

Still on the vein of brilliant offspring, JOHN JANSEN'S boy graduated from Notre Dame in June, with an A.B. in English.

Dr. JIM WALL is plant physician at General Electric in Lynn, and has a daughter entering the School of Education in Springfield. Dr. HARRY FULCHINO, specializing in obstetrics and gynecology, is living in Milton and practicing in Randolph. Harry is on the staffs at St. Margaret's and Carney, has six children with one at B.C. High.

FRANK HEGARTY is on the technical staff at Mitre Corp., and is still an ardent pilot.

Mgr. GEORGE KERR, one of the most busy members of the class, has been devoted a large part of his time recently to his duties as a member of the Stadium Authority, and is a firm backer of an athletic plant with a retractable roof costing in the vicinity of eighty-seven million dollars.

Congratulations to ALEX LUKACHIK who was honored at a testimonial in Bridgeport recently for dedicated work for the youth of that city. More than a thousand persons were in attendance.

One of our shining legal luminaries, TOM DONELIN, is an attorney for New England Electric System. FRANK LOUGHRAN, assistant manager of the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston, has completed twenty-three years of service.

We are informed by BILL HOULIHAN that he had a visit with WALTER CLEAR this summer. Walter is still with Boeing on the West Coast and has a son in the Air Force, and six girls one of whom has just been granted a scholarship to college.

BERNIE FRAZIER, eastern public relations manager of Firestone, based in New York, writes that he wishes that class members in that area would pass on news to him in order to keep up this department.

One final note. If you have not done so, please send your dues, DICK DALEY, Treasurer, Boston College—Class of '41,

'42 PAUL J. MAGUIRE, A&S 52 Buckingham Rd., Milton FRED M. SLINNEY, CBA 52 School St., Arlington

With our 25th anniversary soon coming upon us, it is urgently requested that your thoughts and suggestions for this big year be sent to PAUL MAGUIRE at his home. We need YOUR cooperation to make this a successful year for the WHOLE class.

On May 13, 1965, the Class of 1942 CBA had its annual reunion at Alumni Hall. Fr. McManus was the invited guest and a good time was had by all. . . . Congratulations and thank you to JIM CRONIN who retired as past president of our class and best wishes to HENRY McCONVILLE, our new president. . . . CHARLIE SAVAGE had to leave between the cocktail hour and dinner to teach an evening school class at the College. . . . JOHN CONNERY, up from Rhode Island, was able to visit his son, who is a student at the Heights. . . . Some of the others who enjoyed talking over old times were, TOM McDONALD, JIM RIELY, AMBY CLAUD, JOHN GIBBONS, BILL DYNAN, and ARTHUR CURRY.

FRANK MURPHY missed his first reunion in 20 years. He was in Washington at the time being sworn in to try cases before the Supreme Court. We'll see you at the next affair, Frank!

The class extends its condolences to BILL DYNAN, whose mother recently passed away.

FATHER LEONARD MAHONEY, S.J., is on the map—the new edition of the B.C. campus map. The expert on Vatican History is one of the History department professors . . . One of the most poignant news features of the year was the story of FRANK POWER and his memories of his father, Frank, Sr. who died this year. Frank, Sr. had been one of Boston's exemplary men who encouraged juvenile decency . . . From Maryland comes word that FRANK HARVEY is President of his own construction outfit, the F. M. Harvey Company, Inc. . . . Atlanta, Georgia is the new home of WALLY MACDONALD who had been named Southern Division Director of Marketing, Carling Brewing Company . . . Some of the medical men of '43 had a reunion this summer, hosted by AL DONOVAN in Gloucester. Present and reminiscing about the med-school days were TOM CONROY, JACK MANNING, ED SULLIVAN, and DAVE FOLAN, along with their wonderful wives and numerous children . . . TOM MURRAY is not doing much driving for a while; he's just returned from a vacation trip, driving to San Francisco and other points West . . . The President of the St. Luke's Guild, DR. DICK DART, will plan Abancay, Peru this summer under a plan sponsored by the Guild to bring modern medical methods and care to mountain areas of Peru which lack such facilities. Dick says it is hoped that other doctors will go to these areas under temporary assignment at later dates . . . Where are you—how are you department: NORMAN KANE, ED WALSH, BILL SAWYER, FRANK BRADY, JACK O'HARE, HALEM HADDAD and many others who've not been mentioned here for ages . . . Just a reminder: class dues notices ($5.00) are out now, return to Tom Murray soon.

'44 CHRISTOPHER J. FLYNN, JR.,
CBA
18 Whitten St., Dorchester

Laetare Sunday turned up a surprising number of our class. There was TOM PATTEN, PAUL ("Bing") LAMBERT who was lending his voice to the choir at St. Gerard Magella Church in Canton these days; PAUL BURNS, a real stranger; BOB BOUSQUET, now with Laboratory for Electronics; JOE BANE, DON WHITE, MIKE GARGAN, TINO SPATOLA, FRANK FLAHERTY, up from Attleboro; FRANK FRIMMINS, GIL BOULEY, TOM CASEY now Dalton Awards and Badges; Dr. ED McCALL, JOHN CATALDO, and present for a few minutes, JOE GOUDEAU.

Ran into DAN DURANT (Koehler Co.), JOE DEE, BILL HALEY as well as MIKE GARGAN and TINO SPATOLA at the Catholic Alumni Sodality.

In calling TOM MALONEY on a Sunday night found out that he was tied up with some sort of radio program.

In checking around found that JOE CUNNINGHAM, MIKE GARGAN and JOE DEE have sons starting college here this year. Also, ED McCALL's, Kathleen and CHRIS FLYNN's, Patricia.

JOHN O'CONNELL has been named commercial supervisor business information systems, for New England Telephone in Boston . . . Major FRANK DOHERTY has been decorated with the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at L. G. Hanscom Field, Mass. . . . JIM COTTER has been appointed to assistant controller of Overseas Finance for Trans World Airlines.

'45 JACOB SANTAMARIA, A&S
153 Madison St., Dedham
JAHN V. CURRY, CBA
11 Stevens Ter., Arlington

JACK CONNOLLY has been appointed industrial relations manager of Davis-Standard Division of Crompton & Knowles Corporation, Mystic, Connecticut. Jack is married and has two children and is presently living in Needham, Mass.

KENNETH LOFT has been named Worcester District manager of New England Telephone. Kenneth and his wife, are the parents of eight children.

We are picking up where we left off last Spring with a current rundown on our classmates, families and backgrounds since leaving B.C. 20 years ago . . . Dr. ALFRED ARCIERI is now living in Milton with his wife, Vera, and son, Michael. Al finished up at Tufts Dental School and has his office at 590 East Broadway in South Boston; his old hometown . . . we remember Al on the Stylus and for his article published in the Catholic Digest . . . ELI and Evelyn EHRlich live in Worcester and have three children, Nancy 14, Barry 12 and Arthur 6. Eli who spent much of his time in the Labs at B.C. before going into the Army is now at the Mental Hygiene Clinic in Worcester where he works for the Veterans Administration. He also acts privately as marriage and family counselor in that city. After leaving B.C., Eli obtained a Masters from the School of Social Work at Simmons College . . . FRANK DUGGAN who came to us from B.C. High and returned again to B.C. in 1960 for his Masters in Education after serving in parish work for ten years is at St. Sebastian's School. Fr. recently recovered from an operation at St. Elizabeth's and we hope he is now in the best of health . . . CHARLES and Marie EARLEY and family are in Wellesley. He spends spare time at Woodland C. C. when his roofing business permits—the year book referred to Charlie as "Tall titan haired lad from B.C. High." The only recognizable change today is his multi-colored golfing garb, that is when his hat is on . . . DAN and Ann ENEGUESS are now in Peterborough, N.H. Dan is President of his own Public Relations and Advertising Company "Daniel F. Eneguess Associates." They have four children, David 13, Katherine 12, Sandy 9 and John 7. After serving in the Marine Corps, Dan served in New Hampshire Legislative Council and was Executive Sec. for Monadnock Region Association. He was the first President of the N. H. Vacation Travel Council, a founder of Monadnock Community College and a candidate for State Senator—a Republican—Dan lost the election by 325 votes . . . JOE FIGURITO who was listed in our yearbook as a good student of the languages is now in the Dept. of Modern Languages at B.C.—our yearbook staff knew what they were talking about in Joe's case. He lives with his wife, Mary, in Roslindale. He served in the Military Intel. in Army and since has received his M.A. and D.M.L.

from Middlebury College Language Schools. Joseph has authored many books and plays and visited most of Europe. He is listed in Who's Who in the East, Dictionary of International Biography, Directory of International Scholars. He is the recipient of Silver Medal of Culture from the Republic of Italy, President of Middlebury Area Alumni of Italian School, President of New England Chapter of Amer. Assoc. of Teachers of Italian, Council Member of Dante Society of America, etc. . . .

J. EDWARD FINIGAN and Betty live in Concord with their seven children, James Jr., Julie, Paul, Betsy, Barbara and Robert. They spent the month of August at Harwichport and were seen with FRANK and Barbara TRACY at the Wychmere Harbor Club with the DAVE CAREYS and CURYS. After serving in the Army, Ed returned and obtained a degree in Civil Engineering from MIT. He spent the next four years in design-structural engineering. For seven years thereafter he was with J. J. Powers and General Contractors where he left the Vice Presidency thereof to become Pres. and Treas. of J. E. Finigan Co., Inc. He has done many projects including the Mt. Alvernia Novitiate and College in Newton, Mass. Of Ed the yearbook read: "a great man with facts and figures."

FRANK TRACY who started with our class is now guidance counselor at Boston Latin School and a summertime Bass River golfer . . . Fr. JOHN FOLEY, an honor student at the Heights, whom it was said, "did a day's work while the ordinary student slept" is now Chaplain at Walpole prison . . . BILL HAMROCK, who spent weekends from New Jersey, where he resides and works for American Optical, to his summer home at Bass River. Bill sails a "Star" and plays a good golf game and can be identified by the American Optical sun glasses he is always wearing . . . Lexington is the habitat of ERNIE (New Eng. Tel & Tel) and Helen GRAUSTEIN. They have six, Robert, Richard, Stephen, Diane, Karen and Gregory. Ernie was a Marine by way of Dartmouth but returned to B.C. for his degree. He reentered Marine Corps for seven years which included Korea. He is currently a reserve Lieutenant Colonel but more actively Advertising Supervisor in the Public Relations Department of the Tel. Co.

JOHN GREENER who came to us from Georgetown (Mass. that is) is an orthopedic surgeon in Lynn. He resides in Lynnfield with his wife, Gertrude, and they have four children, Patricia, Carl, Daniel and Kathleen. John received his M.D. from Tufts in '47 and after a couple of years in Navy Medical Corps began practicing in Lynn. John is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a Past President of the Greater Lynn and North Shore B.C. Club . . . JOE HERBERT and Eve live in Needham with their children, Edward, Deborah, Patricia, Michael and Timothy. Joe who has always been in the food and restaurant or allied equipment business now owns and operates Herbert Equipment Co. at 1380 Boylston St., Boston, distributor for Tekni-Craft, Frostys Drive In, 950 Providence Hwy., Dedham, Mass., and the Chestnut Hill Concession Co., 68 Kenney St., Needham . . . HENRY JANCY who was known as a "welcome friend and sincere student," now lives in Melrose with Clare and their eight children, Ann Marie, Steven, Richard, Cathy, Paul, Terry and Robert. After attending Brown Univ. Henry served in Navy and is presently with E. R. Squibb. He is a former member of the Everett City Council. He also acts as Commanding Officer of a Navy Reserve Unit in Lawrence and holds the rank of Commander. His son Dennis joins the long line of alumni sons at B.C. in the fall . . . JIM KEENAN and Audrey and their eight children now live in Reading. Jim is with Sylvia. Re-served in Korean War as USS Sage Executive Officer. Jim came to us at Heights in his red convertible from Milton. The children's names are Kathleen, Audrey, James, Susan, Jane, Brian, Michelle and Leanne.

Fr. JOHN KENNEY left B.C. for St. John's Seminary and was ordained in 1949. After several years of parish work he did graduate studying in Toronto receiving M.A. and M.S.L. degrees. He has since been a member of St. John's Seminary Faculty and a Corresponding Member of the Institute of Research and Study in Medieval Canon Law — as well as a loyal B.C. Hockey supporter . . . HENRY (HANK) LAWLOR, who only had to cross Beacon St. to go to college, now lives in Holden with Helen and their son Richard and Kim and Karen. Hank has been with International Harvester for 15 years and is Zone Manager of Worcester and Springfield area. He was lucky winner of door prize at our reunion dinner dance, an electric tooth brush donated by way of LOU SORGI by Squibb.

'47 ARTHUR A. LUCIANO, BBA 71 Rosewood St., Mattapan

In just two short years, this war-torn class will celebrate its 20th anniversary of graduation. Looking towards this festive occasion and through the fine efforts of Dr. ED FLAHERTY, the class was recently contacted, and many here replied with their latest news notes. Dr. Ed has asked one major question: Is there one man in the class, from A&S who would be willing to act as corresponding member of the class? Please contact Dr. FLAHERTY or Tom Murray at the Alumni Office who will be glad to assist in this project.

For the time being, the following are some of the news items gathered as a result of the class survey. Other notes will follow in subsequent issues.

From Michigan PAUL RYDER reports he is Manager, Personnel and Compensation Planning Department for Ford Motor Company in Dearborn. Paul took his M.B.A. at the Wharton School and his LL.B. at the University of Detroit. MARTY UNDERWOOD, originally a member of '43, is now the Commissioner of Public Safety for the State of Alaska . . . Fr. RAY NEE is the Chaplain at St. Joseph's Hospital, Orange County, California. JIM McTAGGART is an attorney for the MBTA, Boston. DAN SULLIVAN, residing in Arlington with wife, Dorothy and four children is with Raytheon in Computer programming. DAN SURRETTE is working as Sales Promotion Manager for the Newberry Company at the Northshore Shopping Center in Peabody. Out on the West Coast, JOE LAMBE, who lives in Whittier, is the Assistant Manager of the Los Angeles Office, American Casualty Co. Joe reports that he will be transferred to the Seattle Office in February as the new manager. The ardent golfer, PAUL HARRIS is General Accounting Division head for the Boston Edison Co. Paul resides in Wellesley with wife, Mary and their six children. From the North Shore, JOHN LARIVEE reports in as District Salesman for the McKesson Liquor Co. Fr. DAN KENNEDY, O.M.I. is the current principal, Bishop Fall Diocesan H.S., in Buffalo, N.Y. Now living in Medford, BOB CROWN is area supplies Manager for the LBM Corp. After four years in Florida, RALPH ROBERTSON has returned to New England and is now on the technical staff of the Mitre Corp. in Bedford. BILL EARLEY, a resident of Norwell is Program Manager for the Hazeltine Corp. of

Braintree. Another class lawyer, JOHN RYAN is an attorney with the U.S. Department of Justice, Washington. Living in Dewitt, N.Y., TOM MURPHY is Sales Rep., Data Processing Division of the Royal McBee Corp., headquartered in Syracuse. Dr. DOUG MacGILLIVRAY is practicing in Danvers and is a Diplomate, American Board of Surgery. Doug resides with wife, Dorothy and their ten lovely children in Danvers. TOM MANNING who took his M.S.W. degree at B.C.'s School of Social Work in 1950 has moved back to the "old home town" of Southie and is currently a Probation Officer of the East Cambridge District Court. Tom reports he is anxious to get the class moving again and would welcome comments and assistance. From Demarest, N.J., JIM KENNEY checks in with news that he will be moving to Cleveland in the Fall as Sales Manager, T/P Protective Coatings Co., Inc. Now living in Hyde Park with wife, Mary and their four children, BILL O'SULLIVAN is Organization Manager for the Chevrolet Division in Needham. Congratulations to Dr. THOMAS H. O'CONNOR, Chairman of the B.C. History Department, who recently has completed two high school history texts that will be introduced across the nation in September. The two texts are "The Heritage of the American People" and "Sources of the American Heritage."

JOSEPH P. SULLIVAN is living in Bethesda, Maryland, married and the proud father of two boys, Kevin and Shawn. Joe is with the Philip Carey Manufacturing Company of Cincinnati, Ohio and recently was made head of their Government and Architectural Sales Division. Best of luck, Joe, in your new position.

WALLY BURGESS has been admitted to membership in the firm of Lybrand, Ross Bros. and Montgomery . . . ED DOHERTY has been serving faithfully with the F.B.I. in the New York area . . . JOHN CARNEY is a candidate for the Boston School Committee . . . JIM McETRICK, our class president, has plans for several social activities for the coming year. So when notification arrives pertaining to these events, be sure to make a special effort to join your classmates. Jim is particularly interested in having those who for one reason or another, haven't been able to attend previous events.

ROBERT H. FOUHY has been appointed to the Worcester Diocesan Liturgy Committee. He will work with other commission members in implementing, on the diocesan level, the liturgical directives of the Second Vatican Council, the post-conciliar commission on the Liturgy and the decrees of the American Hierarchy on the liturgy.

The commission will also pass on all liturgical works of art including buildings, sculpture and music commissioned for the diocese.

Bob is a native of Dorchester, and has been associated with the diocese since 1952. He has been Executive Secretary of the Lay Apostolate last year. He co-established and directed the operation of the eight diocesan training centers for lay lectors last fall. A member of St. Mary's Parish, Shrewsbury, he is married and the father of four children.

I recently had a telephone chat with ARTHUR DONOVAN of Baltimore (and the Bronx) former B.C. and Baltimore Colts great. Arthur and his Mrs. have four children, three girls and a boy. Arthur says they're all feeling fine. Arthur owns and is successfully managing a retail store and a country club.

We talked over old times "The Jungle," Ma Brennan's, Ruby Foo's at 3 A.M. and the many unforgettable days we spent trying to learn, remembering what we had learned long enough to pass an exam. Banging heads on the football field (Well—Art and the boys did. I managed to duck that by keeping my eye on the footballs and ditty laundry.) Always making sure they didn't disappear to the "Barracks" and hence to Kulpmont, "The Bronx," Medford, Walpole, and other such familiar communities where "little Brothers" put them to good use), and enjoying some of the best years of our lives.

Arthur mentioned that an old friend and classmate had dropped in to see him. Art said, "You should have seen him. A Volkswagen full of kids (6 or 7 or eight, I never got a chance to count them all) and his wife (God Bless her)." They had newly returned from touring the West Coast and were heading home. GUESS WHO? That great end—the ever smiling, ARTHUR M. CESARIO.

GIOVANNI FOLCARELLI, the present Lt. Governor of Rhode Island appeared at the annual Holy Cross Club of R.I. clam-bake. Although his prize donation of a set of B.C. glasses was appreciated, there were some H.C. stalwarts ready for a "necktie party" with the Lt. Governor as guest!

MARLAND SLAVEN of Beverly has been named manager of group sales in the Boston regional office of The Hartford Insurance Group. TED STEGMAIER has been named Northeast District Resin Sales Manager for Rexall Chemical Company, a division of Rexall Drug and Chemical Company. Ted and his wife reside in Framingham Center and have two children. FRANK MURPHY is now living in a new home in Wellesley Hills, 233 Bristol Rd. He is married to Rose Marie Aimone and has three children. Fran is an Account Marketing Manager, I.B.M. Corp. Boston. BILL MONAHAN has been named National Resin Sales Director for El Rex polymers including Polystyrene, Polypropylene, and ABS for Rexall Chemical Co.

JOHN PAUL KILEY and HARRY FERRERA, both in the food business, recently extended the efforts to aid the Cardinal by serving on the committee for the annual outing of the Nazareth Food Association. Paul and Alice reside in Hingham with their three children; he is a salesman for Barclay Brown and Jones. Harry and his brothers own J. Ferra & Sons.

JOHN and Barbara DRISCOLL of Winchester, recent parents of a second daughter, have received news of an imminent transfer to Springfield.

Brockton's DAVE SULLIVAN is doing well after major surgery.

Dick and Claire BUKAY have just had their sixth child and have moved to Milton to larger quarters.

FRANK and Rosemary MURPHY have been transferred back to Boston by IBM and are building a new house in Wellesley.

PAUL and Ellie FAY combined business and pleasure on a trip to California with their two oldest children. San Francisco and Disneyland got highest marks.

JIM FOLEY graduated May 14 from the 9th session of the Program for Management Development at the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration. ED. CARNEVALE of Parametrics, Inc. of Waltham, who earned his Ph.D. from Catholic Univ., presented a special report at the annual meeting of the Acoustical Society of America. President Johnson has promoted JACK SULLIVAN to Class 5 Officer and Consul in the Foreign Service of the United States of America.

Our contacts during the summer have been sparse, but did have a couple of welcome communications from attorney PAUL DOYLE, formerly of Salem, and Bill Keough, formerly of Weston. Paul is living at 1915 Pescadores Avenue, Miraleste, California 90732, and he writes that he is an Administration Officer with the State of California, presiding over hearings concerning the issuance, suspension, or revocation of licenses; principally in the Medical, Educational, alcoholic beverages and Construction fields, which keep him hoppin' . . . he makes his home in the Miraleste area, (which is between Los Angeles and Catalina) with his "harem" which includes his "wonderful wife and two daughters." Paul goes on to say "Have not seen the Heights, nor any Classmates, for a number of years, but, you can rest assured, each are often in my fondest thoughts. Best regards to you all!"

BILL KEOUGH, writing under the letterhead of Superintendent of Public Schools, 163 South Willard Street, Burlington, Vermont, is interested in tracking down old classmates, LEO O'KEEFE, TOM GIBBONS, DICK DONAHUE and BUD O'DONNELL. You fellows can contact Bill by writing to William E. Keough Jr. at the above address, or through this column. We'd like to hear from you too. We did see Leo this summer and he is living in Milton at 69 Fairbanks Road.

Bill finds the Alumni News refreshing, but opines that the activities described tend toward the "sedentary type." Bill, I'm not so sure we know how to take that comment, but suggest you also read Class of '65 notes!!

It was reported in the last issue that MARTY HEALEY's summer boys' and girls' camp was in Topsfield, Mass. We wish to make a correction. The camp is actually located in North Reading and is known as the Robin Hood Day Camp. Marty is the Principal of the Washington Community School in Lynn. He is President of the Boston College Club of Greater Lynn and the North Shore and resides in Lynn with his wife and five "little campers" of their own.

A very welcomed letter was received from Major ED KIRBY just as he was finishing up at the Command and General Staff College in Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. In June, Ed reported that he would be leaving for South Vietnam in July, so we assume that he is there, and that his wife and six children are with her mother, Mrs. George R. Seaver, 119 Ronald Road, Arlington, Mass.

Major LLOYD KELLY is with the Joint Staff in Washington and Major MIKE KULICK is with the Office of Personnel Operations in Washington. They are both slated to attend the Armed Forces College in Norfolk, Virginia before assignment to South Vietnam.

J. BARRY DRISCOLL is an insurance broker located at 125 High Street, Boston. Barry was recently elected to the executive committee of the Massachusetts Golfer's Association and to the Board of Directors of the Wollaston Golf Club. Barry is a regular participant in many of the club tournaments in the New England area.

DICK DRISCOLL, the other half of the famed Driscoll Brothers is a Vice President of the Merchant's National Bank of Boston and is most frequently seen as a T.V. star in the Bank's TV commercials. Other than the TV appearances, Dick also handles some financial transactions with Celtic's star Bill Russell and the Celtic's coach Red Auerbach.

BOB RICHARDS is also assisting Red with his legal problems. Bob is partner with the firm of Hale & Dorr in Boston and has recently moved to Braintree.

BERNIE O'SULLIVAN is a Vice President with Microsonics, Inc. Bernie is living in Weymouth and summing in his newly purchased summer home on Cape Cod.

PAUL KENDRICK was seen checking the Eastern Market at 99 State Street. Paul is a partner in Eastman Dillon Union Securities located in California.

ED HEWITT is rolling right along. Ed has two bowling alleys outside of Providence.

MIKE ROARKE is still connected with the Detroit Tigers as a coach. Mike is also in the insurance business in Warwick, R. I. AL JOHNSON is in the insurance field in Columbia, So. Carolina.

JOE FALETRA has moved to Portland, Maine where he is the Hospital Administrator for the Portland Hospital.

JOHN BUCKLEY was associated with Lt. Gov. Richardson but has transferred over to become an assistant to Senator Saltonstall.

BOB CALLAHAN is a practicing attorney in Norwalk, Conn.

Saw FRED MEAGHER at Alumni Day. Fred is with Meagher & O'Donnell in Providence, a subsidiary of the Frederick A. Meagher Insurance Agency of Boston. Fred is living in Barrington, R.I. and invites anyone in the area or passing through the area to give him a call for business or pleasure.

JOE MCCALL is living in West Roxbury and is also connected with the Meagher Insurance Agency as an Accountant.

BOB LAVIN was also in attendance Alumni Day. Bob is an independent manufacturer's representative in New England.

AL SEXTON and ROGER CONNOR the two most faithful members of '52 were present as always. Al asked me to pass on the information that the next mailing will contain particulars regarding the biennial dinner of the Board of Governors at which time CHARLIE SHERMAN will be installed as our new Board Chairman. Everyone is invited to participate as a board member and to attend the dinner.

Father, HUGH O'REGAN is Class Chaplain is stationed at the Key West Air Base in Florida as a Navy Chaplain.

JACK MONAHAN (Business School) is living in Rosindale and teaching in the Norwood School System.

JAMES W. SMITH is a lawyer in Boston and conducts one of the most successful Bar Reviews in the area that is Smith, McLaughlin and Hart.

There are conflicting stories about the results of a golf match which took place on Alumni Golf Day at Wollaston. I was originally informed that TOM SCANLON and BERNIE FITZMAURICE defeated

DICK MCBRIDE and PAUL STANTON in the annual 4 ball tournament sponsored by the Class of '52. But more recently Paul told me this was wrong and even if it wasn't he and Dick beat them bad on a more recent outing.

Also making up a foursome that day were AL SEXTON, BOB EARLY, FATHER DON FITZPATRICK and BILL HEAVEY.

The prediction of the Spring Alumni Notes was borne out when 81 couples taxed to capacity the room we had reserved in the New Beaconsfield Hotel for the Champagne Dinner-Dance of May 8, 1965. Classmates came from all over the Eastern Seaboard to participate in this reunion which, I think all agreed, was the finest we have had to date. Because of the interest and enthusiasm shown, a subcommittee chaired by ED ZMIJEWSKI and with LOU TOTINO, TOM McHALE, BOB WELTS and LEN MATTHEWS as members, is busily preparing for a fall get-together which at this writing is scheduled to be a cocktail party on Friday, October 22 at Alumni Hall. Keep this in mind and plan to come. When a final announcement is made, please contact the committee members for tickets. Our thanks to CHARLIE STAMOS and his subcommittee for their efforts in making the Dinner-Dance the outstanding success it was. Charlie is Assistant Comptroller of the Standard Wholesale Supply Corporation.

A correction of an item in our last issue was that I can visit ED and Cindy STEGMANN at their home in Bethesda, Maryland, not in Silver Springs as was reported in the Spring issue.

PAUL LEARY has been named agency manager at the Akron, Ohio office of the Travelers Insurance Companies. Paul is married and has five children.

There was a lot of story swapping at the dinner dance. One of the best was told by JACK GALVIN who is the director of the printing company, New England Imprinting & Offset. Jack lost his class ring in a foxhole in Germany and some nine years later it was found and returned to him through the B.C. Alumni Association.

Medical men of the class of '54 are moving on in their profession. BILL SULLIVAN is doing further work in orthopedic surgery at Children's Hospital. LEO KELLY is the chief anesthesiologist at the Cambridge City Hospital.

The class of '54 is still going to school. PAUL SALLY was awarded his Ph.D. degree in Mathematics by Brandeis University in February. Paul is now an instructor in mathematics at the University of Chicago and lives just off campus with Judy and their three boys.

LOU TOTINO and LEO WALKER received degrees of Master in Business Administration from the B.C. Graduate School of Business this June.

ED HEATING who came all the way up from New York for the reunion is the Production and Sales Manager for the Orangeburg Manufacturing Company.

We have a few notes on the far-flung out-of-staters of the class of '54. DICK HEGARTY is the Sales Manager for Allied Research Products and lives with his wife and daughter at 1302 Register Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland.

JACK CLOGAN is a Contracting Officer at the Pentagon and is living at 163 Lockheed Boulevard, Alexandria, Virginia.

PAUL HAYES is one of the tycoons of the class and has become District Manager for all of North and South Carolina and lives with his wife, two daughters and son at 522 Reynolds Drive, Charlotte, North Carolina.

CHET McLAUGHLIN is living in Brockton and represents the Lawyers Cooperative Publishing Company.

JACK McNEICE of Wollaston is with the Colonial Management Fund.

BILL KELLEY has moved to Belmont with his wife and three children.

PETE SALMON, after receiving his MBA Degree from New York University, and his CPA certificate in New Jersey, has joined the faculty of Monmouth College in West Long Branch, N.J. He and Alyce are the proud parents of a boy and a girl.

JACK TOLAND, now teaching in the Brockton school system, celebrated his and Jane's first anniversary with a trip to Hawaii and California.

JERRY COUGHLIN left the bachelor ranks on Sept. 18 when he wed Patricia Sullivan of Rahway, N.J. He is now an Asst. Zone Manager with John Donnelly & Sons.

We had it! The class of '55 of B.C.S.N. finally had a reunion. Seemed good to see everyone and the most frequently heard comment was "You haven't changed a bit." We hear MARY JANE KELLY DEMPSEY sees MARY S. and PAT SCHAEFER out in sunny California. A thought—let's have our next reunion out there. We hear that JOAN SEXTON CALLAHAN's husband, Bill, has started his practice in Andover-Lowell area. Loyal classmates please note. Congratulations to LOUISE and ERIC WALLENT on the arrival of their third child, first boy. Another 55er has heard the call of the midwest. MARY ROSE GRIFFIN has moved out of state. Hope she hurries back.

The condolences of the class are sent to MARY JANE BRENNAN and her family on the sudden loss of her father.

Bob Cousy please note—CARLA LAPLANTE currently has a full scale basketball team all her own. In fact, the class as a whole is doing well in insuring future alumni for our Alma Mater.

He is married, living in Woburn and is the proud father of a baby boy. JOHN KELLEY is now Assistant-Principal of the Barnes Jr. High in East Boston. FRANK FUREY has been newly appointed as guidance counselor at Burlington High. BRIAN CONCANNON is now engaged in the private practice of law at Eight Beacon Street, Boston. Since the last issue of the Alumni News was published, we received word that WILLIAM K. SHEEHAN was killed a year ago Good Friday. He was shot down in Viet Nam. Four months previous to this incident, Bill married a Chinese girl who he had converted to Catholicism. By the time you read these notes the class will have held its annual meeting. Election of officers, review of the past year and discussions on the upcoming events will have been the main items on the agenda.

The annual class dues of $3.00 are now due and payable to "Boston College Class of 1957." Please send your check at your earliest convenience.

A wonderful time was had at the annual Alumni Golf Tournament. A few of the '57ers present were BILLY HEAVEY, ED COAKLEY, BILL JONES, VIN LOMPORELLI, JACK DWYER, DON EMELLO, JACK DWYER, CHARLEY FOX, PAUL SHEEHY and MARTY CLANCY. Congratulations to BARRY and Paula MURPHY on their new baby boy. The Murphys live in Wellesley and also have two girls. HARRY VAN ERTFELDO is presently in his first year of residency in New York. Those in trouble will find

JOHN SILVAGGI in the Cambridge Office of the internal revenue and FRANK HEALY in the Lawrence office. PAUL McNULTY is now assigned to the South-eastern Mass. and Rhode Island area as a dealer representative for Lincoln-Mercury. BOB HUBERT received his Masters Degree this Spring from the Boston College Business School. Congratulations to DICK GALLONT on his recent marriage to Helen Ring. Dick and Helen both work for the State Street Bank in Boston. Your correspondent spotted JIM DEVLIN and CHARLEY FOX in the crowd following Arnold Palmer in the recent Carling's World Golf Classic at Pleasant Valley in Sutton. JOE FAHEY has entered the last phase of his Jesuit training and after receiving his Doctorate Degree, Joe has returned to Weston. Meet BOB MARSHALL and family at West Yarmouth where they were spending a two-week vacation. Bob is teaching at the University of Pittsburgh. The Marshalls have two girls and a boy. TOM WHEELER has taken a leave of absence from General Electric in order to accept a fellowship to George Washington University in D.C. Tom received his Masters degree from Babson in 1961 and has been with G.E. since that time. He will be working to attain his Doctorate in Marketing. GEORGE HENNESSEY will be teaching one evening a week at Northeastern Univ. The Hennesseys have recently moved to Milton.

Meet Dr. ARTHUR McGOVERN and wife at the Charleston Officers Club. Congratulations to JIM and Mary DEVLIN on their first arrival a baby boy — James, what else? Jim is doing very well with Monroe in Boston and still finds time to shoot par golf. BILL CUNNINGHAM, JIM DEVLIN and GEORGE HENNESSEY had a most enjoyable day of golf as the guest of CHARLEY FOX at Norfolk Country Club in June.

Congratulations to JOE PINKHAM and his wife on the birth of their first child, Susanna Temple, born on February 27, 1965.

Hope to see many more of your friendly faces during the upcoming football season.

Heard from FRANK CARROLL recently and he informed me that he is a Columbian Father stationed at Azabu, Tokio, Japan. He would be glad to hear from any of his classmates.

CHARLIE GALLAGHER let me in on some news about our physics majors, TOM KUREY, BOB CASEY and TOM FITZ-GERALD have received their Ph.D.'s. JOHN CROWLEY is on a two year assignment in the Marshall Islands for Lincoln Labs.

DON O'BRIEN recently relayed some interesting news about himself—Don was ordained a priest on May 31st and will leave in September for missionary work in Japan. He also received an M.A. in Education in 1962 and an S.T.B. degree from Catholic University this past June.

Anyone out in the San Francisco area—don't forget to drop in and see FRANK O'NEIL at his new Grocery and Liquor store at 521 Third Street—a free salami sandwich and 6 pak of beer to those that show their B.C. credentials. Frank, by the way is a former Roslindale resident and is Vice-President of the B.C. Club of Northridge, California.

Some of our fellow A&Sers present at Laetare Sunday were DAVE RAFFERTY, JIM QUINN, JOHN DONLAN, JOHN DOOLEY, TOM HASSEY and BOB DIOZZI. We should all make a real effort to attend Laetare Sunday next year as this is a very worthy and enjoyable Alumni event.

TOM FLYNN lets us know he is living in the Quaker Hill section of Waterford, outside New London, Connecticut. Tom and Jane (Roman) have five sons and a daughter. Tom is a Merchandising salesman with Texaco.

BILL GEHAN proves to be a faithful correspondent. Bill and Audrey have two children and are expecting their third in the Spring. Bill is living in Rochester, New York, (67 Furman Crescent) and is the Legal Representative to the Commissioner of Public Safety.

BILL McLAUGHLIN is living in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, is married and has two children. Bill is with Reynolds & Company.

BILL GRIFFIN is a Captain, U.S.M.C. The Marine Corps is sending Bill to George Washington University for his M.B.A. Bill is one of the class' shrinking number of bachelors and should enjoy D.C.

JIM McCUSKER is settled in Syracuse (240 Wynfield Dr.) and informs us he is well. Shell, not Texaco as we reported earlier. We also heard from several Shell directors on this!

The FBI keeps TOM MEEHAN on the go. Tom has been transferred from Oklahoma to Atlanta, Ga.

JIM THOMPSON writes from St. Louis (152 N. Brentwood Blvd., Clayton, Mo.) where he is a CPA with James & Thompson.

Class dues of $2.00 can be sent to the Class Treasurer: ROBERT E. DIOZZI, 5 Maryvale Lane, Peabody, Mass. Most of the expense involved in administering the class affairs are mailing costs which are generally not offset by income from cocktail parties, dances, etc. The obvious answer is better attendance at class functions, but in the meanwhile our cup runneth low.

MEMBER: "1965 MILLION DOLLAR ROUND TABLE"

DEMPSEY who is the wife of Dr. Eugene Bartlett and is living in San Diego; JANET MULLEN now Mrs. Daniel Vigil, Janet is the new Infirmary Nurse at Highlands University in Las Vegas, New Mexico; and MAURA MURPHY who is now Mrs. Robert Boormeester.

Congratulations to the many new parents listed below and to any whom we may have overlooked. JOHN and MARGARET (KUHN) Sydick had a baby girl, Marie whom Margaret brought to the East Coast for a visit . . . Mrs. Jerry Falvey (SUELLEN ADAMS) and Mrs. Philip St. Germaine (TONI FALIERO) introduced their new daughters to each other when LOUISE GALLAHEE, the nurse on duty at St. Margaret's brought the new babies in from the nursery. Others in the new role of parents include William and KATHY (ROY-CROFT) Murphy proud parents of Paul W.; Joe and JOAN (DONAHUE) Sullivan, who are living in Waltham with their newest addition to their new home, Carolyn. Bob and SUZANNE (MAGUIRE) Skolnick have also joined the proud parents club and John and JEANNE (McCARTHY).

Aucella have renewed their membership with Suzanne Marie Vin and MARY (NOONAN) Limauro are signing up for the club in advance for October membership before the waiting lists get too long.

Miscellaneous items include the facts that Dr. David and PAT (FRAWLEY) Woo have moved to New York City . . . JEANNE DANNENBURG is in Pediatrics in Washington, D.C. and we think HELEN PELOQUIN is still over in Japan, and JOAN BAUTZE and MARY DOHERTY are still in Spain.

MARY ELLEN HOGUE will soon be hearing wedding bells, she is engaged to a B.C. graduate.

A special note of thanks to JANE DONAHUE who sent some class notes from Norwood where I guess she is so busy working she forgot to include some news of herself.

It's been two years and many of those in the military are now "over two" for pay purposes—a relief to all. Almost every original gold bar has been transformed to silver; hopeful dental and medical students are now hunched over patients as part of the curriculum; and many a one-time bachelor is now stocking up on Bechnut.

Those in the "over two" category include Lt. TOM TIERNEY, Marine helicopter pilot, married in June and presently living in Jacksonville, N.C. . . Lt. BILL REDGATE, stationed at Camp Lejeune, married to the former Ellen Shaughnessy and the father of a baby girl . . . Lt. BILL CARMICHAEL, portable air strip expert for the Marines, lives with Lt. RICK FAR-RELL in a cliff house overlooking the Pacific. Bill went on a "routine" pickup mission for parts but found the plane finally came to a halt on the Dan Nang airstrip . . . Oh? Lt. (j.g.) SAM GERSON, executive department, USS WASP, along with Ens. GEORGE KAUP, both of whom were involved in the pickup of the Gemini IV spacecraft. Lt. JIM NORTON, target acquisition officer in a Fort Sill unit is scheduled to be married in early September. Congratulations, Jim . . . Lt. ED CONNOLLY, Operation officer in a Fort Sill unit is officially in the 90-day loss category—and isn't that a great feeling! . . . Ens. BILL HOGAN will probably open up a Mediterranean travel agency upon completion of his tour in that area . . . Lt. BOB SMITH is married and stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif. . . Army Lt. JOE HOSIE went to Garmish, Germany after he completed language school in Monterey . . . Lts. DENNIS KELLEHER and ED RAE are at Fort Knox. Ed was married in June. Congrats. Raver. Lt. DAVE COLLINS is at Fort Knox is a father . . . Lt. JACK SWEENEY is at Fort Devens.

July 17, was a happy day in the life of MIKE HANNA. That day he married Barb Hanford in Rochester. Rev. Robert Ferrick officiated at the Mass. Mike is in his second year in sales with Kodak . . . WIL ROGERS was married in August to Ann West and is in his final year at B.C. Law . . . "DEACON" BRENNAN and Ann Creagh were married in February. Cynthia Adams made it up for that one! . . . Lt. STEVE MOZZER is married and following school at Fort Sill will go to Germany . . . Also married is HARRY HASSEL-

MAN, who is going full time to Fordham Law . . . MIKE CLIFFORD is the father of a little girl as is PETE LACHARITE. Daughter Heidi join Peter Scott and Jay Matthew—two real busters. Pete's working for General Tire Co.—Export department in Lowell . . . LEO the K is reportedly in the Army and going to undertake us when we leave. Out comes that tall black hat and white lab coat again! . . . CHARLIE CARR is going to teach at Bridgewater this year . . . TOM FEENEY was working at the R.C.A. exhibit at the Fair and is going to attend business school . . . BOB FERRIS topped his class last year at Fordham . . . TIP MURRAY is doing well at Georgetown dental . . . GENE CLIFFORD, attending B.C. Law, was married in early September in Springfield . . . STU MEIZENHAHL is engaged to Cathie Shantz . . . BOB DEMUELE is in the Peace Corps in Ghana. Correspondence should be addressed c/o to the American Embassy . . . DENNIS DONNELLY, also with the Peace Corps is in Indonesia and can be reached through the American Embassy, Djakarta . . . DICK CONDON is working on his M.B.A. at Babson . . . BILL FRANZ writes that he is married to the former Maureen McGlynn of Riverside, Conn., has a baby boy Chris, born in May. He received his Masters in English from the Univ. of Michigan and is now a Lt. stationed at Fort Wadsworth, N.Y. Bill also is a reporter for the Staten Island Advance . . . DICK FOLEY is working for General Motors in Framingham and is married . . . FRANK McDERMOTT worked this past summer for U.S. District Attorney in Boston. He enters his final year at B.C. Law this fall . . . JOHN WALKER, while working for Kemper has also completed his first year at Suffolk Law with real good grades. Congrats, Lad! . . . DOUG MAGDE is working for his doctorate at Cornell . . . PHIL O'BRIEN is currently serving with the Navy . . . TOM McCABE is helping Margie fold diapers for their little girl, and doing well with I.B.M. in upstate N.Y. . . . JEFF SPENO, adventurer, has got himself a horse and is playing the polo circuit in Syracuse. Jeff plans to teach there in high school this fall . . . GEORGE CUNNINGHAM is working for the telephone company . . . LADDIE DYSART is married and the father of a girl.

JACK CALLAHAN is now registered representative with Bache & Company, Boston. Quite a few Gasson Hallers have seemingly disappeared. After reading this issue jot down a few notes and ship them off to EJC above. The class extends its condolences to the family of Dr. FERDINAND L. ROUSSEVE on his untimely death. EILEEN COACKLEY DORCHACK writes they are expecting a baby in September. Eileen's new address is 23881 David Drive #212, North Olmsted, Ohio. If any classmates are in the area drop in and say hello. PATRICIA O'BRIEN is engaged to Denis Valdinocci of Mishawaka, Indiana. Pat is teaching in Burlington. MARY CAOPIANO also received a diamond. Mary is teaching at Chamberlain Junior College. BETSY REAGAN ZINZER has moved out to the St. Louis area. LIZ CODERRE has changed jobs and will be teaching in Medford for the coming year.

MARSHA and DAVID FOGARTY are the proud parents of a baby boy, David. MARY ANN and GEORGE YEZUKEVICH welcomed a baby girl this Summer. A farewell party was held in August for CAROL BOUDAKIAN who has gone to Haron Air Force Base in Newfoundland to teach for the Armed Services.

PAULINE MONIER spent six weeks touring Western Europe and the Scandinavian countries. Pauline teaches in Winchester.

B. C. LAW SCHOOL

JOSEPH F. MCCARTHY, Esq.
Boston College Law School
Brighton, Mass. 02135

THE HONORABLE ARMAND A. DUFRESNE, JR., CLASS OF 1935. The Law School and the Alumni send their congratulations and best wishes to Judge Dufresne who was recently appointed to the bench of the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine. Judge Dufresne's progress has been followed with pride and interest by his former classmates working at the Faculty of Law through the years as he moved from Corporation Counsel of the city of Lewiston, Maine, to Assistant County Attorney and County Attorney for Androscoggin County, to Judge of the Probate Court for Androscoggin County, to Judge of the Superior Court of Maine, and now to the Court of highest jurisdiction in his native State.

Congratulations are also in order for CHARLES J. DELANEY OF THE CLASS OF 1940, who was recently appointed Chief Counsel for the Cambridge office of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Mr. Delaney has a broad background in the field of contract negotiation and administration both from the point of view of the Federal government and of private corporations, especially in the field of electronics. From time to time during the past few years, he was also kind enough to cooperate with the School when a part time instructor was needed for the evening division.

The Alumni were saddened by the deaths during the past summer of three well known and highly respected graduates of the School. Our sympathy is extended to the families of:

William J. Conboy, '34
George P. Love, Jr., '36
William G. (Chance) Mullen '38

We are pleased to report that the Law School newspaper "Sui Juris" was selected as one of the outstanding newspapers in the Country at the meeting of the American Bar Association in Miami in August. "Sui Juris" in competition with law school newspapers from the one hundred and twenty-nine members of the American Law Student Association, the student affiliate of the American Bar Association, was given a special prize for a "unique concept in journalism" among law school newspapers. Mr. Nicholas Soutter, president of the Boston College Student Bar Association accepted the award. W. Joseph Engler, Jr. and Frank E. Green of the Class of 1965 were co-editors of the award winning paper.

YOU DO BETTER at First National!

That's a simple statement of fact, and a shopping visit to First National Stores will confirm it. Greatest over-all value — the most for your money — that's what you want, and that's what First National gives you.

In these days of fierce competition for your food dollar, of loud, black-type claims and counter-claims, there are a few things to remember. First, that low price on a cheap product is no bargain, and that price alone is a bad guide to your family's satisfaction with the meals you serve, or the pleasure you find in shopping. In that connection, quality for quality, nobody undersells First National!

In addition, First National gives you wide variety of nationally-known brands and popular exclusive products under our own label, plus the friendliest of courteous service.

The fact is that day-in, day-out your food dollar takes home more — much more — from your dependable First National Store.
